Veritone Signs Agreement with Riverside County Sheriff's Office for AI Redaction Technology

Deal expands Veritone's public safety footprint with one of the nation's largest sheriff's departments

DENVER--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Veritone, Inc. (NASDAQ: VERI), a leader in building human-centered enterprise AI solutions, today announced a multi-year agreement with the Riverside County Sheriff's Office (RCSO) for the deployment of Veritone's industry-leading redaction software, part of its Intelligent Digital Evidence Management System (iDEMS) suite.

RCSO, one of the largest sheriff's departments in the United States, will leverage Veritone Redact software to accelerate and streamline the process of audio, video and image redaction, and reduce the administrative burden on agency personnel and associated costs.

"This partnership with Riverside County reinforces our mission to empower public safety agencies with scalable, cost-effective and impactful AI solutions," said Ryan Steelberg, CEO of Veritone. "As the demand for transparency and timely evidence disclosure increases, Veritone Redact helps departments like RCSO to meet public expectations without compromising operational efficiency or privacy rights."

Veritone Redact, a key application within the iDEMS suite, enables agencies to automatically identify and redact sensitive content, including faces, license plates and other personally identifiable information, across bodycam, dashcam, CCTV, interview footage and other digital evidence. Its intuitive interface and seamless AI workflows allow users to manage large volumes of digital media securely and efficiently.

The agreement is the latest in Veritone's rapidly growing public safety footprint, reflecting the company's commitment to keeping communities safe by accelerating investigations while prioritizing responsible and ethical AI innovation. Veritone is dedicated to ensuring its AI technologies are anchored in AI for Good, a set of principles grounded in four key pillars: Transparency, Trust, Security & Compliance and Empowerment, which guide every component of its AI solutions.
