Ingram Micro Names Rose-Karen Swanson Head of Internal Audit

IRVINE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Ingram Micro Inc. today announced the appointment of Rose-Karen Swanson as vice president, Internal Audit, effective immediately. Swanson reports to Ingram Micro Chief Financial Officer Gina Mastantuono.

Swanson leads Ingram Micro's Global Audit function, with responsibilities including providing strategic, risk-based counsel, assurance over the company's internal control environment and playing a key role in supporting corporate governance. Swanson also serves as an independent internal advisor to the Audit Committee of Ingram Micro's Board of Directors.

Most recently, Swanson was senior vice president, Global Compliance at Alorica, a leading provider of customer service solutions. Prior to that, she spent 26 years at Allergan, Inc., serving in multiple executive leadership roles in Finance, Internal Audit, Compliance and Global Shared Services & Procurement. Among her many accomplishments at Allergan, Swanson led the organization's Sarbanes-Oxley compliance program and the establishment of its Healthcare Compliance, Anti-Bribery Anti-Corruption and Information Technology audit functions.

"Rose-Karen is a great addition to our team, bringing nearly three decades of experience in compliance, audit and corporate finance," said Mastantuono. "Ingram Micro is committed to continuous improvement throughout our organization, and we welcome Rose-Karen's industry knowledge and expertise."

Swanson holds a bachelor's degree in business from Loyola Marymount University and an MBA from California State University, Northridge.
