Integral Technologies Adds James W. Wise to Advisory Board

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 13, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Integral Technologies, Inc. (OTC-BB: ITKG) ("Integral"), an emerging light-weighting leader and its wholly owned subsidiary ElectriPlast Corp., announced the addition of James W. Wise to its Advisory Board.

Wise is the Managing Partner of PACE Companies, LLP, and for twenty-five years has represented clients to the Federal government and state governments in policy areas such as energy, transportation, and defense contracting. Wise will be invaluable in assisting the company in building further key partnerships and relationships in the public and private sectors. Bart Snell, Integral's CFO, works closely with the Advisory Board and serves as liaison so the initiatives of the Advisory Board are coordinated with the business and technology directions of ElectriPlast.

Jim Wise said, "The opportunities that the ElectriPlast technology brings to both the public and private sectors are limitless. We believe that the need of key industrial sectors to achieve greater energy efficiencies and enhanced functionality grows daily. ElectriPlast offers a unique combination of both light-weighting and conductivity that is real world proven. I am very excited to be a part of this cutting edge technology company that is bringing a great product to the marketplace at the right time."

Lightweighting is a large and rapidly growing market and conductive plastics has an important role to play within the lightweighting industry. ElectriPlast has made significant inroads with the Automotive and Industrial markets, and will continue to expand these vertical markets with partner-centric applications.

"We are pleased with how the company is now positioned within the Automotive and Industrial sectors. There are large unaddressed needs in other vertical markets, specifically, Aerospace, Consumer, Power Storage, and related opportunities in the Department of Defense and the Intelligence markets," stated Integral CEO Doug Bathauer. "Jim will prove a valuable asset in further expanding these opportunities for us."
