MJ Freeway announce completion of CannLabs test results integration with GramTracker software

Well-known Colorado cannabis lab to provide direct electronic reporting of potency test results

DENVER, Oct. 17, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- MJ Freeway are pleased to announce the completion of their test results integration with Denver-based cannabis testing laboratory CannLabs.

The newly-completed integration marks CannLabs' entry into MJ Freeway's test result partnering program. As a partner, CannLabs will be able to use this integration to return test results from client samples directly to their databases, providing immediate access to test results. Clients will then be able to display these test results on product labeling, displaying that the product's test results are verified by the lab itself. "We are very excited to provide this integration with a lab so well-known in Colorado," said MJ Freeway co-founder and chief executive officer Amy Poinsett. "Our clients and their patients understand the value of knowing the potency and safety of the medical marijuana they use, and this integration will make it much quicker and easier to provide patients with accurate and reliable information."

Test result integration is available to all MJ Freeway customers, with the module bundled standard with Business Pro and Business Elite subscription packages. Prospective clients and clients interested in investigating their account features are encouraged to visit http://www.mjfreeway.com or contact MJ Freeway sales at 888.932.6537 x2 for further details and ordering information. Laboratories interested in learning more about the test results partnering program are encouraged to contact MJ Freeway at 888.932.6537 or email support@mjfreeway.com.
