Lightbridge Awarded Patent in Eurasia for Innovative Nuclear Fuel Assemblies

RESTON, Va., June 01, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Lightbridge Corporation (NASDAQ: LTBR), an advanced nuclear fuel technology company, today announced that it has received a patent from the Eurasian Patent Office for its innovative nuclear fuel assemblies. This is a divisional patent of the 2014 PCT application and covers an all-metal fuel assembly design with a mixed grid fuel rod arrangement inside the fuel assembly. Lightbridge is developing its advanced metallic fuel designed to make both existing and new nuclear power plants more efficient, more cost competitive, and even safer.

Seth Grae, President & Chief Executive Officer of Lightbridge Corporation, said: "We are proud to add this latest patent to our growing portfolio of intellectual property. Eurasia includes countries that are signatories to the Eurasian Patent Convention, such as Russia, Kazakhstan, Belarus, Azerbaijan, Armenia, Turkmenistan, Tajikistan, Kyrgyz Republic, and Republic of Moldova. These countries represent an attractive market for our proprietary technology, which is designed to enhance the operating safety and efficiency of existing reactors as well as new reactors."

About Lightbridge Corporation

Lightbridge (NASDAQ: LTBR) is an advanced nuclear fuel technology development company based in Reston, Virginia, United States. The Company is developing Lightbridge Fuel™, a proprietary next-generation nuclear fuel technology for current and future reactors, which significantly enhances the economics, safety, and proliferation resistance of nuclear power. Lightbridge invented, patented, and has independently validated its technology, with goals of preventing climate change and enhancing national security. The Company has assembled a world-class development team. Four large electric utilities that generate about half of America's nuclear power advise Lightbridge on fuel development and deployment. The Company plans to operate under a licensing and royalty model and based on the increased power generated by Lightbridge-designed fuel expects to offer high ROI for operators of existing and new reactors.
