Second Quarter 2022 Financial Results

Revenues for the second quarter of 2022 increased 37% to $20.0 million from $14.6 million for the same quarter of 2021. The increase in revenues is due to an increase in new live miles, customer expansions, increased revenues from LEEDS and revenues from Forensic Logic.

Gross profit for the second quarter of 2022 increased 40% to $11.6 million (58% of revenues), compared to $8.3 million (57% of revenues) for the same period in 2021.

Total operating expenses for the second quarter of 2022 were $8.4 million, compared to $8.5 million for the same period in 2021. Operating expenses for the second quarter were relatively flat as compared to the same period in 2021. Although second quarter operating expenses included higher personnel-related costs as well as costs associated with Forensic Logic, which was acquired in January 2022, operating expenses for the second quarter were offset by a contingent consideration adjustment (reduction of $3.4 million) related to the potential earnout payments related to the Forensic Logic acquisition, which have been reduced for 2022 but increased for 2023 due to a delay in some expected contracts.

Net income for the second quarter of 2022 totaled $3.0 million, or $0.25 per basic and $0.24 per diluted share (based on 12.1 million basic and 12.3 million diluted weighted average shares outstanding), compared to a net loss of $250,000, or $(0.02) per basic and diluted share (based on 11.6 million basic and diluted weighted average shares outstanding), for the same period in 2021. The improvement in net income was primarily due to a $3.4 million gain related to the contingent consideration adjustment related to the Forensic Logic acquisition.

Adjusted EBITDA for the second quarter of 2022 totaled $4.1 million, compared to $2.9 million for the same period in 2021.

At quarter-end, the company had $3.4 million in cash and cash equivalents, $28.0 million in accounts receivable and contract assets, net, and approximately $15.0 million available on its line of credit. The sequential decrease in cash and cash equivalents was primarily due to investments the company made in sensors, inventory and repurchasing its stock, as well as non-recurring legal fees. As of August 9, 2022, ShotSpotter had more than $14.0 million of cash and cash equivalents.

Financial Outlook

The company reiterated its full year 2022 revenue guidance of $81.0 million to $83.0 million, representing approximately 41% year-over-year growth at the midpoint compared to 2021, and full year 2022 Adjusted EBITDA margin guidance of 19% to 21%.

The company has not reconciled its Adjusted EBITDA outlook to GAAP net income due to the uncertainty and variability of interest income, income taxes, depreciation and amortization, stock-based compensation expenses and acquisition related expenses, which are reconciling items between Adjusted EBITDA and GAAP net income. Because the company cannot reasonably predict such items, a reconciliation to forecasted GAAP net income is not available without unreasonable effort. Such items could have a significant impact on the calculation of GAAP net income. For more information, see “Non-GAAP Financial Measures” below.

The company's financial outlook statements are based on current expectations. The preceding statements are forward-looking, and actual results could differ materially depending on market conditions and the factors set forth under “Safe Harbor Statement” below.

Management Commentary

“The second quarter marked a strong consecutive period for ShotSpotter,” said CEO Ralph Clark. “Our financial performance in Q2 was highlighted by a 37% increase in revenues to $20.0 million and a 39% increase in Adjusted EBITDA as compared to the same quarter in 2021. Our Adjusted EBITDA profitability demonstrates the efficient operating leverage of our business model. During Q2, we went ‘live’ with ShotSpotter Respond in four new cities and expanded in six current customer sites, demonstrating the effectiveness of our growth strategy and customer success efforts, as well as the stickiness of our solutions platform.”

“More broadly, we are seeing growing demand for our precision-policing solutions as law enforcement agencies of all sizes grapple with rising crime and depleted sworn officer resources. These agencies view ShotSpotter’s solution as a mission-critical component of any crime prevention strategy. We entered the second half of the year with a solid pipeline of 12 new cities and eight expansion Respond projects under contract, including two recently won international contracts. We are working to take those projects live over the next six months in addition to new contract wins expected this quarter. Outside of our strong Respond pipeline, our Forensic Logic division is finalizing a substantive seven figure annual SaaS contract with the State of Massachusetts.”

“As we enter the second half of 2022, we believe ShotSpotter is well positioned with strong market demand drivers in a large and under-penetrated market, with what we believe are the most compelling product offerings in our industry and a highly efficient business model demonstrated by industry low customer acquisition costs and high gross subscription renewal rates. These factors give us a high degree of confidence in our profitable growth outlook for 2023 and the years ahead.”

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Adjusted net income: Adjusted net income, a non-GAAP financial measure, represents the company's net income (loss) before acquisition-related expenses, including adjustments to the company's contingent consideration obligation.

Adjusted EBITDA: Adjusted EBITDA, a non-GAAP financial measure, represents the company's net income (loss) before interest (income) expense, income taxes, depreciation, amortization and impairment, stock-based compensation expense and acquisition-related expenses, including adjustments to the company's contingent consideration obligation. Adjusted EBITDA is a measure used by management internally to understand and evaluate the company's core operating performance and trends across accounting periods and in connection with developing future operating plans, making strategic decisions regarding the allocation of capital and considering initiatives focused on cultivating new markets for our solutions. In particular, the exclusion of these expenses in calculating Adjusted EBITDA facilitates comparisons of the company's operating performance on a period-to-period basis.

ShotSpotter believes adjusted net income (loss) and Adjusted EBITDA also provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating our operating results in the same manner as our management and board of directors. For example, ShotSpotter adjusts EBITDA for stock-based compensation expense and acquisition-related expenses because such expenses often vary for reasons that are generally unrelated to financial and operational performance in a particular period. Stock-based compensation is utilized by ShotSpotter to attract and retain employees with a goal of long-term retention and the alignment of employee interests with those of the company and its stockholders, rather than to address operational performance for any particular period's financial performance measures, in particular net income (loss), or our other GAAP financial results.
