Ascent Industries Brings Performance-Driven Oil & Gas Solutions to AFPM 2025

SCHAUMBURG, Ill.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Ascent Industries Co. (Nasdaq: ACNT) ("Ascent" or the "Company"), an industrial company focused on the production of specialty chemicals and industrial tubular products, will attend the American Fuel & Petrochemical Manufacturers (AFPM) Annual Meeting in San Antonio, Texas, from March 23-25, 2025. The Company will highlight its robust portfolio of oil & gas performance additives and its commitment to delivering reliable, U.S.-based chemical manufacturing solutions from its three domestic manufacturing sites.

With a growing focus on domestic supply chain security and operational efficiency, Ascent continues to provide high-performance solutions that enhance oilfield applications. The Company's portfolio includes advanced corrosion inhibitor additives that protect critical infrastructure, defoamers engineered to optimize drilling and production efficiency, and specialty emulsifiers and surfactants designed to improve oil recovery and fluid stability. Additionally, Ascent's custom toll and contract manufacturing capabilities offer flexible, scalable solutions for companies seeking to streamline production and accelerate product development.

"Ascent Chemicals is dedicated to solving the toughest challenges facing the oil & gas industry with innovative chemistries and a commitment to leading the domestic manufacturing renaissance," said Bryan Kitchen, CEO of Ascent Industries Co. "AFPM provides a key opportunity for us to connect with industry leaders, showcase our latest advancements, and explore new ways to drive efficiency, performance, and reliability across the supply chain."

The Ascent Chemicals team will be available for one-on-one meetings throughout AFPM 2025 to discuss partnership opportunities and tailored chemical solutions. To schedule a meeting, please email inquiries@ascentchem.com.
