Know Labs Discusses Intellectual Property Strategy

SEATTLE--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Know Labs, Inc. (OTCQB: KNWN) today reviewed its intellectual property strategy for investors as it moves into the 2020 calendar year. As discussed in its recent annual 10-K filing, the Company has pursued for several years an ambitious intellectual property strategy focused on patent filings, trademarks, copyrights and trade secrets.

The Company currently has 13 issued patents to which it possesses all right, title and interest. It also has an exclusive license to 9 patents owned by Allied Inventors, a spin-off subsidiary of Intellectual Ventures, the largest IP-centric fund in the world. In addition, the Company has a growing number of patents pending. That number is added to with regularity as the Company aggressively expands its patent portfolio.

The Company expects new patents covering its foundational technology to issue over time. Recently, the Company received a Notice of Allowance from the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) on an important addition to its patent portfolio covering foundational elements of its technology.

The Company will provide detail on the scope and reach of its intellectual property patent portfolio as patents are issued.

About Know Labs, Inc.

Know Labs, Inc. is a public company whose shares trade under the stock symbol "KNWN." The company's technology directs structured light or radio waves through a substance or material to capture a unique molecular signature. The Company refers to these signatures as ChromaID™ and Bio-RFID™. ChromaID and Bio-RFID are used to identify, detect, or diagnose substance markers or biomarkers that may be invisible to the human eye. ChromaID and Bio-RFID scanner modules can be integrated into a variety of wearable, mobile or bench-top form factors. This patented and patent pending, award-winning technology makes it possible to effectively conduct analyses that could only previously be performed by invasive and/or large and expensive lab-based tests.
