Rusty Hutson, Jr., CEO of Diversified, commented:

"We are off to a terrific start in our 25th year of business. In this year of celebration and reflection of our history, I am very pleased that our teams started 2026 by delivering another strong quarterly performance, and were able to produce year-over year adjusted free cash flow growth of 157%, while managing through a quarter that saw Winter Storm Fern and the war in Iran creating challenging operating conditions and nearly unprecedented commodity price volatility. Importantly, the robust cash flow generated by reliable production of our assets allowed us to further strengthen the balance sheet through $92 million of systematic debt reduction, returned $94 million to shareholders through a combination of dividends and share repurchases, and deployed capital into two strategic acquisitions.

Looking ahead, I am incredibly excited about the future of Diversified Energy. With the Sheridan acquisition recently closed and the innovatively structured Camino acquisition, with our partners at The Carlyle Group, expected to close in the third quarter, we are once again transforming our platform and enhancing our long-term positioning as the leading consolidator of cash-generating energy assets in the US. On a pro forma basis, these transactions increase our cash flow and expand our vast acreage position, creating significant optionality within our portfolio optimization program. Our scale positions Diversified to benefit from powerful, long-term demand drivers, including power generation, data center growth, LNG exports, and the continued importance of U.S. energy production amid global geopolitical uncertainty. As the largest individual shareholder in Diversified Energy, I believe our differentiated and proven business model, expanded footprint, culture of focused execution, and our ability to generate consistent free cash flow position us better than ever before to capitalize on these trends and drive sustainable, long-term shareholder value."

Operations and Finance Update

First Quarter Production

The Company recorded exit rate production as of March 31, 2026 of 1,228 MMcfepd (205 Mboepd)^(a) and delivered average daily production of 1,198 MMcfepd (200 Mboepd) for the three months ended March 31, 2026. The Company's production volume mix was approximately 71% natural gas, 14% natural gas liquids ("NGLs"), and 15% oil, with approximately 66% of production volumes from the Central region and 34% from Appalachia for the three months ended March 31, 2026. Production for the quarter continued to benefit from Diversified's peer-leading, shallow decline profile.

First Quarter Margin and Total Cash Expenses per Unit

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, Diversified delivered per unit revenues of $4.87/Mcfe^(e) ($29.22/Boe) and Adjusted EBITDA Margin^(b) of 68%. Notably, these per unit metrics reflect an increase in both revenues and expenses from the incorporation of greater liquids production following the 2025 Maverick Natural Resources & Canvas Energy acquisitions. The Company's per unit expenses are anticipated to improve as the Company implements its playbook to achieve long-term, sustainable synergies and cost savings. For example, General and Administrative expenses decreased during the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to prior period levels, despite the higher per unit costs of Maverick, supporting our progress on cost savings and synergy capture and highlighting our ability to profitability add assets due to our scale and existing capabilities.

The Company includes Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted Free Cash Flow in the Company's Full Year 2026 Outlook. Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted Free Cash Flow are non-GAAP financial measures and have not been reconciled to the most comparable GAAP financial measures because it is not possible to do so without unreasonable efforts due to the uncertainty and potential variability of reconciling items, which are dependent on future events and often outside of management's control and which could be significant. Because such items cannot be reasonably predicted with the level of precision required, we are unable to provide an outlook for the comparable GAAP measures.

Use of Non-GAAP Measures

Certain key operating metrics that are not defined under GAAP ("non-GAAP" measures) are included in this announcement. These non-GAAP measures are used by us to monitor the underlying business performance of the Company from period to period and to facilitate comparison with our peers. Since not all companies calculate these or other non-GAAP metrics in the same way, the manner in which we have chosen to calculate the non-GAAP metrics presented herein may not be compatible with similarly defined terms used by other companies. The non-GAAP metrics should not be considered in isolation of, or viewed as substitutes for, the financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP. Certain of the key operating metrics are based on information derived from our regularly maintained records and accounting and operating systems.

Adjusted EBITDA & Pro Forma Adjusted EBITDA

As used herein, EBITDA represents earnings before interest, taxes, depletion, depreciation and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA includes adjusting for items that are not comparable period-over-period, namely, finance costs, accretion of asset retirement obligation, other (income) expense, (gain) loss on fair value adjustments of unsettled financial instruments, (gain) loss on natural gas and oil property and equipment, (gain) loss on sale of equity interest, unrealized (gain) loss on investment, costs associated with acquisitions, other adjusting costs, loss on early retirement of debt, non-cash equity compensation, (gain) loss on interest rate swaps, and items of a similar nature.

Adjusted EBITDA and pro form adjusted EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for operating profit or loss, net income or loss, or cash flows provided by operating, investing and financing activities. However, we believe such measure is useful to an investor in evaluating our financial performance because it (1) is widely used by investors in the natural gas and oil industry as an indicator of underlying business performance; (2) helps investors to more meaningfully evaluate and compare the results of our operations from period to period by removing the often-volatile revenue impact of changes in the fair value of derivative instruments prior to settlement; (3) is used in the calculation of a key metric in one of our Credit Facility financial covenants; and (4) is used by us as a performance measure in determining executive compensation. When evaluating this measure, we believe investors also commonly find it useful to evaluate this metric as a percentage of our total revenue, inclusive of settled hedges, producing what we refer to as our adjusted EBITDA margin.

The following table presents a reconciliation of the GAAP financial measure of net income (loss) to the non-GAAP measure of adjusted EBITDA for each of the periods listed:

(3) Other adjusting costs for the three months ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025, and December 31, 2025 were primarily associated with one-time personnel-related expenses and legal fees from certain litigation.

(4) Pro forma TTM adjusted EBITDA includes adjustments for the respective periods to pro forma results for the full twelve month impact of intra-period acquisitions (March 31, 2026: Canvas; March 31, 2025: Oaktree, Crescent Pass, East Texas II, Summit and Maverick; December 31, 2025: Canvas, Maverick, Summit, and Williams).

Net Debt & Net Debt-to-Pro Forma Adjusted EBITDA

As used herein, net debt represents total debt as recognized on the balance sheet less cash and restricted cash. Total debt includes our borrowings under the Credit Facility, borrowings under or issuances of, as applicable, our subsidiaries' securitization facilities, and other borrowings. We believe net debt is a useful indicator of our leverage and capital structure.

As used herein, net debt-to-pro forma adjusted EBITDA, or "leverage" or "leverage ratio," is measured as net debt divided by pro forma adjusted EBITDA. We believe that this metric is a key measure of our financial liquidity and flexibility and is used in the calculation of a key metric in one of our Credit Facility financial covenants.

The following table presents a reconciliation of the GAAP financial measure of total debt to the non-GAAP measure of net debt and a calculation of net debt-to-pro forma adjusted EBITDA for each of the periods listed:

(In thousands)	As of
	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025	December 31, 2025

(1) Includes adjustments for deferred financing costs and original issue discounts, consistent with presentation on the statement of financial position.

(2) Pro forma TTM adjusted EBITDA includes adjustments for the respective periods to pro forma results for the full twelve month impact of intra-period acquisitions (March 31, 2026: Canvas; March 31, 2025: Oaktree, Crescent Pass, East Texas II, Summit and Maverick; December 31, 2025: Canvas, Maverick, Summit, and Williams).

(3) Does not include adjustments for working capital which are often customary in the market.

Free Cash Flow & Adjusted Free Cash Flow

As used herein, free cash flow represents net cash provided by operating activities ("operating cash flow"), less expenditures on natural gas and oil properties and equipment and adjusted free cash flow represents free cash flow after adjusting for proceeds from divestitures related to asset optimization and changes in cash from working capital. We believe that free cash flow and adjusted free cash flow are useful indicators of our ability to generate cash that is available for activities beyond capital expenditures. We believe that free cash flow and adjusted free cash flow provide investors with an important perspective on the cash available to service debt obligations, make strategic acquisitions and investments, and pay dividends.

The following table presents a reconciliation of the GAAP financial measure of operating cash flow to the non-GAAP measure of free cash flow and adjusted free cash flow for each of the periods listed:

(in thousands)	Three Months Ended
	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025	December 31, 2025

Total Revenue, Excluding (Gain) Loss on Fair Value Adjustments of Unsettled Derivatives & Adjusted EBITDA Margin

As used herein, total revenue, excluding (gain) loss on fair value adjustments of unsettled derivatives, represents total revenue less (gain) loss on fair value adjustments of unsettled derivatives. We believe that total revenue, excluding (gain) loss on fair value adjustments of unsettled derivatives, is useful because it enables investors to discern our realized revenue after adjusting for derivative settlements.

As used herein, adjusted EBITDA margin is measured as adjusted EBITDA, as a percentage of total revenue, excluding (gain) loss on fair value adjustments of unsettled derivatives. Adjusted EBITDA margin encompasses the direct operating costs and the portion of general and administrative costs required to produce each Mcfe. This metric includes operating expense, employee costs, administrative costs and professional services, and recurring allowance for credit losses, which cover both fixed and variable cost components. We believe that adjusted EBITDA margin is a useful measure of our profitability and efficiency, as well as our earnings quality, because it evaluates the Company on a more comparable basis period-over-period, especially given our frequent involvement in transactions that are not comparable between periods.

The following table presents a reconciliation of the GAAP financial measure of total revenue to the non-GAAP measure of total revenue, excluding (gain) loss on fair value adjustments of unsettled derivatives, and a calculation of adjusted EBITDA margin for each of the periods listed:
