CEO Commentary

James Hardie CEO Jack Truong said, “Our North America Fiber Cement Segment delivered modest top line growth of 2% for the quarter and 7% for the nine months. The North America housing market demand was soft across most geographies and customer segments. Our exteriors business continues to improve and grow slightly above our addressable market, but below our expectations. Our management team is transforming our commercial strategy and implementing Lean manufacturing as our operating approach in North America plants. We are confident these transformations will lead to an improvement in our execution and results.”

He continued, “Within our Asia Pacific Fiber Cement Segment, our Australian and Philippines businesses continued to deliver excellent top line growth of 12% and 13% in local currency for the quarter and nine months, respectively."

Dr Truong added, "Our Europe Building Products Segment delivered strong net sales compared to the prior corresponding periods, on a pro-forma basis up 8% in local currency for the quarter, and an Adjusted EBIT margin excluding costs associated with the acquisition of 9.2% for the quarter and 10.3% for the nine months. We continue to be encouraged by the early indicators from our European business."

He concluded, "Our consolidated group results reflected steady financial performance in an inflationary raw materials, freight, and foreign exchange environment, and soft underlying housing market demand in our primary markets."

Outlook

We expect to see modest growth in the US housing market to continue through the remainder of fiscal year 2019. The single family new construction market and repair and remodel market growth rates in fiscal year 2019 are expected to grow, albeit at a growth rate lower than that in fiscal year 2018. The Company expects new construction starts between approximately 1.2 million and 1.3 million.

We expect our North America Fiber Cement segment EBIT margin to be in the middle of our stated target range of 20% to 25% for fiscal year 2019. This expectation is based upon the Company continuing to improve operating performance in its plants, continuing to experience current inflationary trends for input costs, and a strong US dollar.

Net sales from the Australian business are expected to continue to trend above the average growth of the domestic repair and remodel and single family detached housing markets in the eastern states of Australia.

Full Year Earnings Guidance

Management notes the range of analysts' forecasts for net operating profit excluding asbestos for the year ending 31 March 2019 is between US$297 million and US$311 million. Management expects full year Adjusted net operating profit to be between US$295 million and US$315 million assuming, among other things, housing conditions in the United States continue to improve in line with our assumed forecast of new construction starts, input prices remain consistent and an average USD/AUD exchange rate that is at, or near current levels for the remainder of the year. Management cautions that although US housing activity has been improving, market conditions remain somewhat uncertain and some input costs remain volatile.

The comparable Adjusted net operating profit for fiscal year 2018 was US$291.3 million. The Company is unable to forecast the comparable US GAAP financial measure due to uncertainty regarding the impact of actuarial estimates on asbestos-related assets and liabilities in future periods.
