Salem Web Network Acquires Instapray App

CAMARILLO, Calif., Dec. 10, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Salem Web Network, the online division of Salem Media Group (NASDAQ: SALM), a leading U.S. radio broadcaster, Internet content provider and publisher targeting audiences interested in Christian and conservative opinion content, announced the acquisition of Instapray.

Instapray, available on both iOS and Android devices, allows users to add prayer requests, share them with a global network and receive notifications as their prayers are prayed over. Launched in mid-2013, Instapray has facilitated over 50 million prayers around the world.

The strategic acquisition of Instapray adds to Salem Web Networks expanding portfolio of Christian websites and apps which reaches 25 million monthly unique visitors and serves over 37 million Facebook fans.

"We are pleased to have Instapray join our mobile audience and to be able to take the app to its next level of growth," said Rick Killingsworth, Executive Vice President at Salem Web Network. "By leveraging our existing audience and resources, we can provide an even greater tool for people to come together in prayer and encouragement."

"I started Instapray to create a safe, supportive online community, a place free of the overwhelming negativity present across much of the web," said Fryderyk Ovcarić, CEO and Founder of Instapray. "This acquisition is a clear strategic fit for both the Instapray and Salem audiences allowing our platform to grow even faster while continuing its mission to connect people all over the world in love, mutual respect and support."
