General Employment Divisions Named Best and Brightest Companies to Work For

NAPERVILLE, Ill., Dec. 3, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- General Employment Enterprises, Inc. (the "Company") (NYSE MKT: JOB), December 2, 2013 – is excited to announce that two of its divisions, Ashley Ellis and Omni One, have been named winners of the "2013 National Best and Brightest Companies to Work For" by the National Association for Business Resources.

"Being recognized on a national level is an honor," said Andrew J. Norstrud, Chief Financial Officer of General Employment Enterprises. "This year marked the 120th anniversary of our Company's roots, and we're sure our founders would be pleased to know we still consider our employees the key to our continued growth and success."

"Best and Brightest" winners are chosen through an assessment administered by an independent research firm. This evaluation reviews several key metrics including, among others: employee engagement and retention; employee achievement and recognition; and communication and shared vision. Ultimately, the National Association for Business Resources is looking for companies that "keep innovative human resource initiatives at the forefront of their company culture."

The supportive work environment that General Employment Enterprises has cultivated will endure as the Company moves forward into new and exciting endeavors. "As we continue to grow and expand, we remain dedicated to providing an enriching experience for every employee," concludes Mr. Norstrud.
