U.S. News & World Report Article Identifies OWP as One of 7 Marijuana Stocks to Grow in 2020

LAS VEGAS, NV, Dec. 18, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- via NEWMEDIAWIRE – One World Pharma Inc. (OTCQB:OWPC), “OWP,” a fully licensed pure-play cannabis and hemp ingredient producer in Colombia was identified by an article in U.S. News & World Report as one of ‘7 Marijuana Stocks to Grow in 2020.’ The story was the featured report on U.S. News and World Report’s popular “Money” section. (see article here.)

U.S. News & World Report is an American media company that publishes news, opinion, consumer advice, rankings, and analysis since 1933.

An excerpt from the article:

“One World Pharma, a Las Vegas-based licensed cannabis and hemp producer which cultivates and grows them in Popayan, Colombia, is an opportunity that investors should keep an eye out for, Michael Berger says. The company recently received a quota for 2020 production of THC, a main psychoactive compound in marijuana, in Colombia and is among the first companies to be issued an amount. “The Latin American market represents an attractive opportunity due to the economics associated with the production of cannabis,” he says. “Following the issuance of government licenses, the company is positioned to record strong growth in 2020.”

“We are pleased to be recognized in an article like this in a publication that people often look to for insight as to business and the markets,” stated Brian Moore, President, One World Pharma. “Our team has worked very hard to execute the One World mission, to assemble the necessary licenses, technology and relationships to pursue the Colombian opportunity.”

“We too are very excited about what 2020 may hold for One World Pharma,” added Moore.
