

Constellation Brands Announces the Decision of James A. Locke III to Retire From the Company's Board of Directors

VICTOR, N.Y., Jan. 26, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Constellation Brands, Inc. (NYSE: STZ), a leading beverage alcohol company, announced today that James A. Locke III (Jim) has informed the company that he will retire from the company's Board of Directors at the end of his current term and consequently will not stand for re-election as a Board Director at Constellation's upcoming Annual Shareholders Meeting in July 2023. Locke will also complete and retire from his current roles as Lead Independent Director of the Board and Chair of the Corporate Governance and Responsibility Committee at that time. Following the company's upcoming Annual Shareholders Meeting, Constellation's newly elected Board of Directors will identify successors for the Lead Independent Director of the Board and Chair of the Corporate Governance and Responsibility Committee roles as part of its first meeting.

This decision culminates nearly 50 years of direct support of the company and its management team, including 40 years of dedicated service as a Constellation Brands Board Director. Locke, 80, provided independent counsel when Constellation first became a public company in 1973. He joined the company's Board in 1983. Over the years, he has provided extensive knowledge in the areas of business and corporate law, corporate governance, mergers and acquisitions, and securities law compliance to Constellation's Board and management team.

Locke played an influential role as a member of the Board in a number of transformational moments in the company's history including the company's diversification across the beer, wine and spirits categories; the acquisition of Robert Mondavi Winery, which established Constellation as a leader in Napa Valley fine wine; and the acquisition of the company's imported beer brands in the U.S., including Modelo, Corona, Pacifico and Victoria. He currently serves as Senior Counsel to the law firm of Nixon Peabody LLP.

"Jim has been a steady hand and trusted source of counsel for every CEO that has had the privilege of serving this company including my father Marvin, brother Richard, myself, and present CEO Bill Newlands," said Rob Sands, Board Chair, Constellation Brands. "He has admirably served as Lead Independent Director since 2008 and as Chair of our Corporate Governance and Responsibility Committee since 1998. Jim has played a key role as a member of our Board in Constellation's transformation into one of the most respected beverage alcohol companies in the business. On behalf of Bill and our fellow Board members, we thank Jim for his dedication and stewardship over the past 50 years of association with our company. He will truly be missed, and his impact will be felt for many years to come."

"From the company's first public stock offering to today, I have had great joy in seeing the various transformations of Constellation's business, which collectively have strengthened our company and positioned it for sustainable long-term growth, while creating strong shareholder value," said Jim Locke, Board Director, Constellation Brands. "It has been a privilege to work with Marvin, Richard, Rob and Bill in their capacities as CEO, as well as my fellow colleagues on the Board, both past and present. With the secure knowledge that there is a talented and diverse team at Constellation to carry us forward, and a dedicated Board to provide ongoing guidance and oversight, I am resolved in my belief that now is the time to retire. My heart is full of goodwill for all, and I wish the Constellation team the very best for the future.”
