Micro-cap Portfolio

The micro-capital portfolio is a collection of WSR's best ideas and is intended to help speculative investors increase their investment performance. Positions in the portfolio include early stage companies and other micro-capital companies that appear to be significantly under-valued or technically attractive. Early stage companies are typically WSR clients and (in our opinion) have the potential for a three hundred percent return over the next three to five years. Other companies included in the portfolio are generally trading at a significant discount to their peers, breaking out of long-term bases, are turn-around plays, or have recently announced a significant event. Changes to the portfolio are emailed to WSR's subscribers via its Daily Notes publication and are updated each month in The Emerging Growth News.

Note: Past performance does not guarantee future success, and an investment in the model theoretical portfolio might lose money. Dividends and commissions are not included in performance calculations. The model theoretical performance noted above includes performance history of the model micro-capital portfolio. The theoretical performance contains many high-risk speculative stocks, which tend to be more volatile and more illiquid than larger more established companies. The theoretical performance of the model does not represent actual trading and does not reflect material economic, psychological and market factors that might have impacted the results if actual money had been invested. While no companies pay a fee to be included in our micro-capital portfolio, certain companies, which are published as featured companies on our website, pay a due diligence fee for participation in the Wall Street Resources' financial publication and distribution program. In compliance with rule 17b of the Securities and Exchange Commission, detailed information regarding compensation from such companies is included on the last page of such reports, is explained in the disclaimer located at <http://wallstreetresources.net/disclaimer.html>, and is located on the last page of this newsletter. Tax consequences must be carefully considered. We, our affiliates, and any officer, director or stockholder or any member of their families may have a position in and may from time to time purchase or sell any securities included in our micro-capital portfolio. Wall Street Resources, Inc. is a financial publisher and not a broker/dealer or registered investment advisor, and thus all trades and actual trading, decisions are made solely by the individual investor, not by Wall Street Resources, Inc. Wall Street Resources, Inc. and/or the employees of Wall Street Resources, Inc. will not be held responsible for any losses that might occur from the use of the information provided in our model portfolio that might be acted upon by an investor. Changes in our theoretical portfolio and current quote prices are made as of the last trading day of each month and based upon the closed price.

Special Note: During the completion of our Micro-cap Portfolio update for the period ending 5/31/07 we became aware of errors in our Micro-cap Portfolio positions published in our monthly newsletter as well as in our monthly Micro-cap Portfolio performance reports in relation to the posted additions and deletions of portfolio positions published in our Daily Notes. These changes were clearly posted in our Daily Notes publication for many days or even weeks, but were not correctly recorded into the Micro-cap Portfolio performance tracking sheet. The aforementioned Micro-cap Portfolio positions and performance measures now accurately reflect portfolio positions according to our published changes. In most cases these omissions lead to under reporting our performance since the 1st reporting errors occurred in April of 2006. We have also added measures to minimize the possibility of future reporting errors.

APRIL'S COMPANIES OF INTEREST:

Wall Street Resources' "Companies of Interest" section of its Daily Notes publication provides emerging growth company investors with fresh ideas. Axium Technologies, Inc.OTC:AXGI

Axium Technologies, Inc. ("AXGI" or the "Company"), a leading provider of surveillance security systems software and hardware, recently released a 36-page analytical profile explaining its business model, products, industry, valuation, management and risks. The free report is available at: www.wallstreetresources.net/pdf/fc/AXGI.pdf or by clicking the link below to obtain more information.

The Company has also recently announced the completion of a licensing agreement with Samsung Techwin for its Maximum Software and the Software-Based Network Video Recorder Products. The agreement calls for Axium to create versions of the Maximum Software and the Network Video Products that specifically operate with the Samsung Techwin suite of Digital Video Recorders. The initial delivery of products is scheduled for 4th quarter of 2007. Axium will retain industrial and intellectual property rights for the products that when under full production will deliver a minimum of $1.0 million annually to the Company.

Axium's primary products include MAXIMUM Surveillance Software, which is the key solution providing interoperability for numerous digitalized security and surveillance products from diverse manufacturers. The Company's Digital Video Recorders (DVRs) and Network Video Products (NVPs) are targeted at the Security and Surveillance segment of the gaming industry. The Company's newest product "Tagger Trap" is a state of the art graffiti detection product, which detects and alarms local police of graffiti activity. The estimated cost of graffiti clean up in North America is projected at $1.0 billion annually. Millions of dollars have been budgeted in the past year by large metro police departments to detect and apprehend graffiti taggers. Click here to obtain additional information...

BlueFire Ethanol, Inc.OTC:BFRE

BlueFire Ethanol, Inc. recently announced the Company has been selected to receive $1 million in grant funding from the California Energy Commission (CEC) as well as up to $40 million from the U.S. Department of Energy's (DOE) cellulosic ethanol grant program to develop several solid waste biorefineries in Southern California. BlueFire Ethanol plans to build several ethanol facilities throughout California and North America through a process that could be repeated at most of the more than 1,600 landfill sites across the nation.

BlueFire Ethanol Fuels, Inc. is established to deploy the commercially ready, patented, and proven Arkenol Technology Process for the profitable conversion of cellulosic ("Green Waste") waste materials to ethanol, a viable alternative to gasoline. BlueFire's use of the Arkenol Process Technology positions it as the only cellulose-to-ethanol company worldwide with demonstrated production of ethanol from urban trash (post-sorted MSW), rice and wheat straws, wood waste and other agricultural residues. Our goal is to develop and operate high-value carbohydrate-based transportation fuel production facilities worldwide. These "biorefineries" will convert widely available, inexpensive, organic materials such as agricultural residues, high-content biomass crops, wood residues, and cellulose from MSW into ethanol. BlueFire intends to build a multinational company that leads the world in producing biobased transportation fuels. Its business will encompass development activities leading to the construction and long-term operation of production facilities while maintaining technological advantage and ownership of the process technology and all its improvements. Ethanol will be produced from biorefinery facilities opportunistically constructed on or near landfills, waste collection and waste separation sites. Each facility will deploy the proprietary technology, which uses all cellulosic waste materials traditionally disposed of in landfills as feedstock.

Identify, Inc.

OTCBB:EDFY

Identify, Inc. ('Identify') was formed in August 2004 with the objective of becoming the leading organization in the field of developing and deploying data analysis technology solutions for preventing identity theft and fraud. It is currently a later development-stage company and expects shortly to begin a period of growth. Identify will seek to fulfill its goals by analyzing the means by which identity crimes are perpetrated and through the development of new technologies and procedures to assist corporations, the government, and consumers in the fight against identity fraud and related crime.

Identify owns the intellectual property rights to two strategic approaches towards the detection and prevention of identity fraud. One is a patented information-based approach that analyzes identity data information for individuals in large databases, and is capable of detecting and scoring incidences of identity manipulation and potential theft (Identity Quotient Index(TM)). Identify will continue to market this technology to the financial services industry, as well as to large healthcare organizations and local, state, and federal government agencies.

The second approach, which is still under development, is a biometric technology that will be marketed through and is named after our wholly-owned subsidiary, InMotion Biometrics, Inc. ('IMB'). This novel set of algorithms combines face and voice recognition techniques for authenticating the identity of an individual. GelStat CorporationOTC:GSAC

GelStat Corporation a consumer healthcare company focused on the development of over-the-counter (OTC) products for treatment of pain and inflammation has announced the launch of its new website to improve online sales and increase consumer awareness of the Company's products. The new site (www.gelstat.com) emphasizes the Company's flagship products including its patented GelStat™Migraine and its proprietary GelStat™Arthritis.

In addition to providing consumers with an easy method to order and learn about GelStat's products, the new website creates an ideal platform to leverage Internet, television, radio and print advertising efforts. The overall concept is to drive traffic to the website using cost effective advertising campaigns and then use the website to increase the odds of completing the sale. The site will also support retailers directly by offering rebates and in-store promotions, as well as indirectly by educating consumers about the effectiveness of GelStat's products, which are expected to drive additional retail sales from consumers who wish to use the product immediately.

GelStat has a suite of effective healthcare products that address many consumer markets. Collectively, GelStat's portfolio of products are in markets that produce over $10 billion dollars in annual sales. GelStat Migraine is a sublingually (under the tongue) administered OTC medication for acute relief from the pain and associated symptoms of migraine. GelStat™Arthritis is the second available product and utilizes GelStat's patent pending formulation. It is provided as a daily use, sublingual dissolving tablet. The Company also has developed GelStat Sleep and GelStat Sinus.

Nanobac Pharmaceuticals, Inc.OTCBB:NNBP

Nanobac in recent news announced new evidence that may help solve one of the great puzzles of 21st century medicine and this evidence was published recently in a special section of the Journal of Investigative Medicine. It features leading scientists at NASA, The Mayo Clinic, and Nanobac Pharmaceuticals, who pioneered investigations into infectious calcifying particles, working together to conclude whether Nanoparticles might serve as an inflammatory stimulus that initiates cell transdifferentiation, stimulates the formation of matrix vesicles, or simply forms a nidus for subsequent inorganic calcium accumulation. Scientists from the Mayo clinic worked in collaboration with Nanobac Pharmaceuticals, Inc. to successfully isolate nanoparticles from human kidney stones in cell cultures. The Mayo scientists also isolated proteins, RNA and DNA that appear to be associated with the Calcifying Nanoparticles (CNPs). Nanobac believes CNPs play a major role in one of the most pervasive medical conditions in existence: calcification of arteries and organs.

Furthermore, on January 19th 2007 Nanobac Pharmaceuticals announced it began conversations with FDA representatives and determined that both sides are in agreement on the general approach to the development program for a therapeutic treatment of prostatitis. The Company will now begin the steps leading to an IND submission and the start of clinical trials.

Nanobac Pharmaceuticals, Inc. is a life sciences company dedicated to the discovery and development of products and services to improve people's health through the detection and treatment of Calcifying Nanoparticles (CNPs). The Company's pioneering research is establishing the pathogenic role of CNPs in soft tissue calcification, particularly in coronary artery, prostate, and vascular disease.

OTC:STRU

Straight Up Brands, Inc. ("STRU" or the "Company") an emerging developer and international marketer of premium branded wines and spirits in recent news announced results for the first quarter of 2007 with revenues of over $310,000.

The Company's flagship product, "Bracco Wines" was also recently featured in a lengthy article in TheStreet.com as a stellar example of a celebrity wine of "outstanding" quality. The article described the line of eight wines with glowing references to the provenance and integrity of each.

TheStreet.com, Inc. is a leading multimedia provider of business, investment and ratings content, available through its proprietary properties, which include Web sites, email subscription services, print, radio, syndication and audio and video programming. Founded in 1996, TheStreet.com, Inc. pioneered the electronic publishing of financial information on the Internet.

Straight Up Brands, Inc. develops, produces, and markets branded wine and alcoholic beverages through collaborations with artists, DJs and other influential celebrities. The Company's premium branded products are within three growing categories of the spirits industry: wine, vodka and liqueurs/cordials. The Company's first product brought to market is Bracco Wine; with the acquisition of Rappin Brands, it now has Sizzurp in distribution and it will begin the distribution of Lucky Nites in selected markets in the first quarter of 2007.

Future products include Foxy Brown's sparkling wine, Storm Vodka with DJ Clue, MoMo Mojito with Ja Rule, and Triple Coconut Rum with MOP. The Company anticipates adding to these product lines with additional celebrity endorsements throughout 2007. Leveraging the marketing power of artists combined with the current growth and solid profit margins in the spirits industry, the Company is well positioned for strong revenue growth, earnings and success.

U.S. Sustainable Energy CorporationOTC:USSE

U.S. Sustainable Energy Corp. and Sustainable Power Corp. in recent news announced the formation of a joint venture with Illinois Biofuel Group, LLC specifically to utilize the USSEC/SSTP suite of products in the generation of green power, biodiesel and ethanol, organic based fertilizer, and other business incidental to the general purpose of the Joint Venture.

The Joint Venture was formed to build and operate an initial Biofuel plant in Princeton, Illinois. The scope of the initial Phase I Project, which may be expanded, is to provide a 4 reactor USSEC/SSTP plant utilizing all liquid and gaseous fuels in the production of green power. The basis of design for the USSEC/SSTP Biofuels plant and green power plant will be 40 tons of soybeans per day per reactor, with a target power plant production of 100 mw. Funding will be provided by Illinois Biofuel Group, LLC for the procurement of the BioFuel site, permits, rail access, feedstock supply and any and all project financing for development, design, construction and startup costs. USSEC/SSTP will provide funding for all aspects related to the design services and project management services of their reactor installations, as well as the operation of the plant once completed.

USSEC/SSTP holds patent pending technology for a new breakthrough biofuel and carbon based fertilizer. USSEC has successfully demonstrated the most cost effective method of producing biofuel estimated at $.50/gallon according to exhaustive studies and independent Lab confirmation. The company has developed the process, units and catalyst that will transform agricultural biomass into biofuel and fertilizer. This technology offers a solution for foreign oil dependence, balancing industrial and agricultural concerns with environmental issues and stabilizing and eventually reversing global greenhouse gas emissions. USSEC's research and development has successfully demonstrated the core technology in its fully functional facility located in Port Gibson, MS.
