Datascension, Inc. up 32% in October

By Paul Silver

In this month's newsletter, we are highlighting Datascension, Inc. (OTCBB: DSEN), incorporated in 1991, it is a Las Vegas-based company that is one of the ten companies in our Aggressive Growth portfolio. Datascension is an in-bound calling center and market research company focused on the collection, storage, processing, and interpretation of data primarily in the U.S. and Costa Rica serving various industries and customers, including the hospitality, entertainment, and automotive sectors.

In today's high speed and highly competitive marketplace, having timely access to quality data is essential for good decision making. The data must be gathered and processed in such a way in order to ensure the data is accurate and reliable. Datascension's extensive project management experience combined with its deep expertise with advanced survey methodology and its collection of precise market research data makes the Company one of the leading international data collection companies in the industry. While we are waiting for the imminent release of the Company's third quarter 10-Q, we wanted to provide investors with a preview of this exciting growth story.

The Company provides three primary service lines: market research data collection services, contact center solutions, and "plug and play" services. Under the umbrella of its market research data collection services, the Company creates data collection solutions by using the Internet, telephone, or any number of other available data collection technologies. Datascension's range of solutions also includes database creation, data storage, document processing, data reporting and mining, in-bound customer service, and bilingual interviewing.

The Company's contact center solutions centers around addressing clients' service strategies, including anticipating volume and service levels, reporting and analytical requirements, networking and security, back-end system integration, and training and staffing requests. Its plug and play services include call center setup and consulting services. Although Datascension works with contact centers, it does not engage in any type of telemarketing activity.

Approximately 98% of revenue generated is from the telephone interviewing and customer service with approximately 2% coming from the data services and programming division.

For the six months ended June 30, 2009, the Company generated approximately $7.6 million in revenues as compared to approximately $10.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2008, a decrease of just over 24%. However, gross margins were much more encouraging as the Company was able to trim its COGS by approximately $2.7 million or 31%. As a result, for the six months ended June 30, 2009, the Company generated a gross profit of approximately $1.4 million, an increase of 24% over the same period in 2008.

The revenue decline is directly attributable to the current general economic downturn which has affected its customers resulting in lower demand for the Company's outsourcing services. The increase in gross profit is due to steps management has taken to reduce operating costs along with increasing productivity per hour on the work being done for clients.

SG&A expenses decreased to $928,302 for the six months ended June 30, 2009 from approximately $1.4 million for the same period 2008, a decrease of just over 31%. This decrease in expenses is due mainly to the reduction in executive salaries along with a reduction in marketing costs and a general reduction in all administrative costs. Interest expense was also lower by 34% due to the payoff of several loans and reduced borrowings. As a result, the Company reported a profit for the six months ended June 30th, 2009 of $210,345 ($0.01 per share) compared to a net loss of $740,781 for the six months ended June 30, 2008, an increase of $951,126.

As we have said many times before, when analyzing the prospects of any company, always bet on the jockey, not the horse. We were pleased to learn that Datascension recently decided to upgrade its senior management personnel. The Company's new Chairman, CEO and President is Lou Persico, an experienced operator with over 25 years of financial and operational experience in private and public corporations.

For the past seven years, Mr. Persico's focus has been with venture-backed start-up companies as CFO (the lead investor being Insight Venture Partners, a $3 billion private equity firm). Mr. Persico went on to sell one of the early stage companies to Quest Software (QSFT), a publicly traded company, after scaling the business from $1.5 million to $20 million in 13 months for $61 million. At a large public enterprise, Cambridge Technology Partners (CATP), Mr. Persico was instrumental in building out the global infrastructure of the company from $200 million to nearly $700 million in worldwide revenue.

The biggest eyesore when analyzing the Company is its balance sheet. As of June 30th, 2009, the Company has two secured convertible promissory notes payable due to Longview Fund, L.P. and Alpha Capital Anstalt for a total of approximately $4.2 million including accrued interest payable. It should be noted that on March 31, 2009, Datascension entered into waiver of default interest agreements with both funds. These agreements call for the making of two monthly interest payments at non-defaulted interest rates to each fund until all past due interest is paid in full. Datascension also has approximately $2.5 million of payables, bringing its total current liabilities to just over $6.6 million, compared to total assets of $3.0 million as of June 30th, 2009.

In our opinion, shares of Datascension are trading at a deep discount to their intrinsic value. As of October 30, 2009, DSEN is trading at 0.10 times sales and only 3.30 times forward earnings, assuming a run rate of $0.02 in earnings per year based on the $.01 earned in the 1st half of 2009. With $15 million in trailing twelve month revenues, the Company has a market cap of $1.6 million and an enterprise value of $5.6 million. During fiscal year 2008, the Company reported over $2.6 million in cash flow from operations and as we stated earlier, turned a profit for the six months ended June 30th, 2009.

In summary, although the balance sheet could be cleaner, the fundamentals are improving quickly and we believe that Datascension represents an attractive aggressive growth investment opportunity at current valuation levels. We are looking forward to getting a new look at the Company when it files its 10Q for the 3rd quarter later this month.

WSR's Aggressive Growth and Speculator Focus Lists

Companies included in the WSR-Aggressive Growth list are primarily companies based outside of our home state of Florida and are generally trading at a significant discount to their peers, breaking out of long-term bases or have recently announced a significant event. To qualify for inclusion, companies in the WSR-Florida Small Cap 30 must have a market capitalization less than $500 million and must have met a certain number of valuation and performance based hurdles including but not limited to revenue growth, PEG ratio, tangible book value, and profitability.

Companies included in WSR-Speculator are typically early stage or turnaround companies which are frequently WSR clients and (in our opinion) have the potential for a three hundred percent return over the next three to five years. Changes to these lists are emailed to WSR's subscribers via its Daily Notes publication and are updated each month in The Emerging Growth News.

OCTOBER'S TOP COMPANIES UNDER $5.00 AS MEASURED BY INSIDER BUYING:

Investors and analysts look to the buying and selling trends of insiders, who are typically long-term investors, for clues to the broader market outlook. According to Ben Silverman, InsiderScore.com's director of research, "Insiders have been very accurate in terms of calling market bottoms, both temporary, in terms of corrections, and troughs."

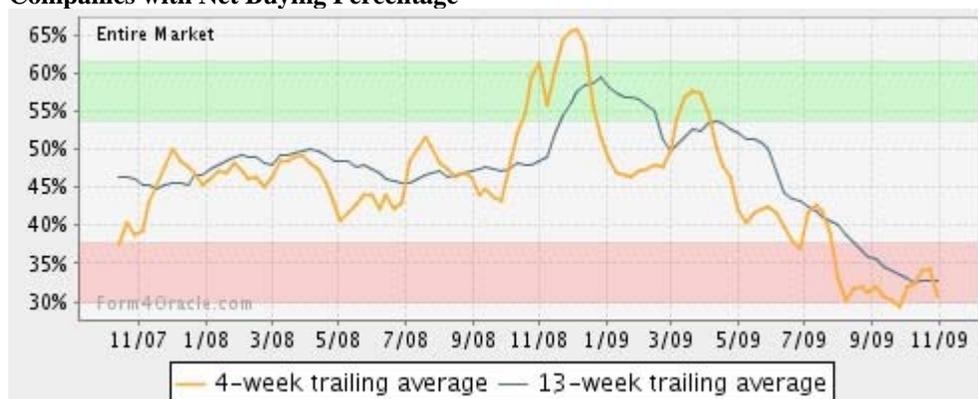

Although insider buying is a useful tool to consider when making a decision on which stock to buy, it should be looked at carefully lest it give a false positive signal. Investors need to look behind the headlines and conduct their own research before buying on this basis. For example, option exercises can also give false signals.

This section summarizes the companies (trading under $5.00 per share) with the greatest amount of purchasing by insiders during the month of August 2009.

The chart on the left illustrates the 4 and 13 week trailing average "Net Buying" in relationship to the entire market. In other words, what percent of the stocks in the entire market have net insider buying. In theory, the higher the percent the greater the indication that the overall market will increase in price.

ISA is a leading provider of data center optimization software, services and solutions based out of Palm City, FL. Its core technology OSPI (On Site Physical Inventory®) provides a toolset allowing customers to create a highly accurate data set of their current IT assets. This information can be utilized to enable businesses to make meaningful decisions on Data Center Management that lead to optimization of resources, cost reductions and significant ROI.

All organizations regardless of size need an accurate data set for their existing IT asset infrastructure. This in turn enables them to take advantage of the considerable cost reductions and efficiency gains that can be achieved by Data Center Optimization methodologies. Our team of dedicated professionals provides the technology and expertise that can help your organization to get this job done quickly, precisely and cost-effectively.

Current “by hand” data collection practices are both slow and prone to large margins of error. We have developed a unique proprietary software application, OSPI (On Site Physical Inventory®), to eliminate these problems.

Webdigs, Inc.
OTCBB:WBDG

Webdigs, Inc. has developed a state-of-the-art, web-based, transaction platform that is revolutionizing the real estate industry. The robust system integrates the efficiency of the Internet with the hands on relationship of a full service real estate broker. By fully automating the steps in the buying process that don't require the skills of an experienced broker, Webdigs has enabled home buyers and sellers to save on transaction fees, while helping real estate brokerage service providers use their time more efficiently so they can close more transactions. We feel the downturn in the real estate market has set the stage for a transition to a better way to manage real estate transaction much the same as the down turn in the stock market in the early 2000s opened the door to Internet base brokerage firms such as Etrade.

DISCLAIMER - Wall Street Resources is an emerging growth company specialist, which publishes financial reports with respect to some of the securities that it covers and provides a newsletter and daily notes focused on micro-to-small capital companies on a subscription basis. The information contained in these publications is based upon sources, which we believe to be reliable, but is in no way warranted by us as to accuracy or completeness. The information contained herein is subject to change without notice, and we assume no responsibility to update the information in our financial publications. We, our affiliates, and any officer, director or stockholder or any member of their families may have a position in and may from time to time purchase or sell any securities discussed in our financial publications or included in our newsletters. An employee, author, officer, or a director of the firm, or its affiliates, may serve as a director for companies mentioned in our financial publications. There may be instances when fundamental, technical, and quantitative opinions may not be in concert. Our affiliates may from time to time perform investment banking or other services for, or solicit investment banking or other business from, any company mentioned on this web site.

Past performance does not guarantee future success, and an investment in the model theoretical portfolio might lose money. Dividends and commissions are not included in performance calculations. The model theoretical performance includes performance history of the model micro-capital portfolio. The theoretical performance contains many high-risk speculative stocks, which tend to be more volatile and more illiquid than larger more established companies. The theoretical performance of the model does not represent actual trading and does not reflect material economic, psychological and market factors that might have impacted the results if actual money had been invested.

While no companies pay a fee to be included in our micro-capital portfolio or newsletter, certain companies, which are published as featured companies on our website, pay a due diligence fee for participation in the Wall Street Resources' financial publication and distribution program. In compliance with Section 17(b) of the Securities Act of 1933, detailed information regarding compensation from such companies is included on the last page of such reports, is explained in the disclaimer located at <http://wallstreetresources.net/disclaimer.html>, and is listed below. Tax consequences must be carefully considered. Wall Street Resources, Inc. is a financial publisher and not a broker/dealer or registered investment advisor, and thus all trades and actual trading, decisions are made solely by the individual investor, not by Wall Street Resources, Inc. Wall Street Resources, Inc. and/or the employees of Wall Street Resources, Inc. will not be held responsible for any losses that might occur from the use of the information provided in our financial publications that might be acted upon by an investor.
