"Operating results for the third quarter did not meet our expectations, largely because of challenging economic conditions across many of our regions and a lower cadence of promotional activity during the quarter," said Jim Brown, President and Chief Executive Officer. "These factors made it difficult to generate both Active Customer growth and top line momentum in our business. Notwithstanding these near-term challenges, the strength of our balance sheet and business model allowed us to continue investing in key strategic initiatives during the quarter, and we plan to continue to invest in and execute these strategies going forward. We also believe that the expanding global nutrition category, and consumers' increased focus on health and wellness, provide a compelling opportunity for us to leverage our best-in-class health products and business opportunity. Consequently, we remain confident and optimistic that our strategies will generate long-term Active Customer and sales growth for USANA."

Mr. Brown continued, "We made progress on several initiatives during the quarter, including the re-engagement of our Associate leaders around the world. During the quarter, we hosted a successful Americas and Europe convention in Salt Lake City. We believe that these inperson events are key to generating momentum and excitement among our Associates, and we have more events planned over the next 12 months."

"During the quarter, we also finalized plans to commence operations in India and anticipate opening this important market prior to year-end. We continue to believe that India provides a meaningful and diverse growth opportunity for USANA, and we are excited to introduce our best-in-class nutritional products in this promising market."

Balance Sheet and Share Repurchase Activity

The Company generated $22 million in operating cash flow during the third quarter and ended the quarter with $307 million in cash and cash equivalents while remaining debt-free. #### Fiscal Year 2023 Outlook

The Company is revising its net sales and earnings per share outlook for fiscal year 2023, as follows:

Fiscal Year 2023 Outlook
Revised Range Previous Range
Consolidated Net Sales	$900 - $920 million	$900 - $950 million
Diluted EPS	$2.80 - $3.05	$2.65 - $3.30

"Inflationary pressures, lower promotional activity, and the strengthening of the US dollar collectively resulted in lower than anticipated top line performance," said Doug Hekking, Chief Financial Officer. "Additionally, we updated our annual effective tax rate estimate during the quarter, which negatively impacted third quarter EPS by approximately $0.10 per share due to the relative distribution of taxable income by market."

Mr. Hekking continued, "We are narrowing our fiscal 2023 guidance to reflect our third quarter operating results, expected fourth quarter results, and continued pressure from unfavorable foreign currency exchange rates. We remain committed to managing costs in line with expected sales performance while we continue to invest in strategic initiatives that we believe will drive sustainable long-term growth for USANA."
