Spire Global Added to Membership of Russell 3000® Index

Spire and several “new space” companies joining the index for the first time highlights exciting sector growth

VIENNA, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Spire Global, Inc. (NYSE: SPIR), a leading global provider of space-based data, analytics and space services, has been added as a member of the broad-market Russell 3000® Index, effective after the US market opens on June 27, as part of the 2022 Russell indexes reconstitution. Membership in the Russell 3000® Index, which remains in place for one year, means automatic inclusion in the large-cap Russell 1000® Index or small-cap Russell 2000® Index as well as the appropriate growth and value style indexes.

“We are honored to be included in the Russell 3000,” said Peter Platzer, Spire’s CEO. “This is a milestone event for the company and for our talented team who got us where we are today.”

Russell indexes are widely used by investment managers and institutional investors for index funds and as benchmarks for active investment strategies. Approximately $12 trillion in assets are benchmarked against Russell’s US indexes. Russell indexes are part of FTSE Russell, a leading global index provider.

About Spire Global, Inc.
