Lightbridge Receives Notice of Allowance on Key Patent from the Canadian Intellectual Property Office

RESTON, Va., July 13, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Lightbridge Corporation (Nasdaq: LTBR), an advanced nuclear fuel technology company, today announced that it has received a Notice of Allowance from the Canadian Intellectual Property Office. The newly allowed patent is based on the 2014 Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) patent application and broadens the company's claims directed to a square fuel assembly having metallic fuel rods arranged in a mixed grid pattern.

Seth Grae, President and CEO of Lightbridge commented: "Canada represents a sizeable market for Lightbridge Fuel™ for deployment in both existing and new-build reactors, with 22 reactors currently in operation. This Notice of Allowance is an important achievement that expands our IP portfolio and broadens our patent protection in Canada."

Lightbridge Fuel has been designed to enhance the safety and economics of nuclear power for both existing and next-generation nuclear reactors. Lightbridge has patents pending in various countries around the world, including the United States, South Korea, Canada, Japan, Eurasia, and Australia, as well as additional patents pending in Europe and China.

About Lightbridge Corporation

Lightbridge (NASDAQ: LTBR) is an advanced nuclear fuel technology development company positioned to enable carbon-free energy applications that will be essential in preventing climate change. The Company is developing Lightbridge Fuel™, a proprietary next-generation nuclear fuel technology for small modular reactors, as well as existing large light-water reactors, which significantly enhances safety, economics, and proliferation resistance.
