A-Mark to Acquire Leading E-commerce Retailer JM Bullion, Creating the Industry's Preeminent Fully Integrated Precious Metals Platform

EL SEGUNDO, Calif., Feb. 09, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- A-Mark Precious Metals, Inc. \(NASDAQ: AMRK\) \(A-Mark\), a leading fully integrated precious metals platform, has entered into a definitive agreement with JM Bullion, Inc. \(JMB\), a leading e-commerce retailer of precious metals, to acquire the remaining 79.5% of the issued and outstanding shares of JMB not currently owned by A-Mark. The proposed acquisition follows a longstanding and highly synergistic relationship between the companies that dates back to A-Mark's initial minority investment in JMB in 2014.

JM Bullion (JMB) Overview

Founded in 2011 and headquartered in Dallas, Texas, JMB is a leading e-commerce retailer providing access to a broad array of gold, silver, copper, platinum, and palladium products through its company owned websites and marketplaces. JMB operates five separately branded, company-owned websites targeting specific niches within the precious metals market, including JMBullion.com, ProvidentMetals.com, Silver.com, GoldPrice.org, SilverPrice.org, and also sells products through eBay.

Acquisition Summary

- A-Mark will pay a total of $138.3 million for the 79.5% of JMB it does not currently own, implying a total valuation for JMB of $174.0 million. Total consideration is comprised of $103.7 million of cash and $34.6 million of A-Mark common stock. The total consideration is subject to certain closing adjustments, customary working capital adjustments, and expense sharing arrangements.
- JMB CEO and Co-Founder Michael Wittmeyer and Chairman Kendall Saville will join A-Mark's board of directors. Wittmeyer will remain CEO of JMB and will assume the title of Executive VP of A-Mark's Direct Sales segment, which also includes A-Mark's existing Goldline business.
- A-Mark intends to finance the cash portion of the purchase price with cash on hand and through any available means of financing, including a public or private equity or convertible debt offering.
- The acquisition is expected to close in the first quarter of calendar 2021, subject to customary closing conditions and regulatory approval.

JMB financial and operational highlights for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2020 include:

- Net sales of $1.49 billion, gross profit of $78.9 million, and pre-tax income of $62.2 million;
- 1.3 million total users (up approximately 30% year-over-year), of which more than 300,000 purchased products during the year (up approximately 70% year-over-year);
- Processed 794,000 orders (up approximately 80% year-over-year); and
- Sold more than 21 million ounces of silver (up approximately 120% year-over-year) and more than 500,000 ounces of gold (up approximately 170% year-over-year).

Strategic Rationale

- Channel Diversification: JMB significantly increases A-Mark's Direct Sales segment, which will represent nearly 50% of the combined company's pre-tax income on a pro forma basis.
- Broadens Consumer-Facing Brand Portfolio: JMB will provide A-Mark with the ability to tailor its merchandising and pricing strategies to multiple customer demographics across the combined business's six unique consumer-facing brands.
- Expands A-Mark's Logistics Footprint: JMB will add a centrally located distribution hub in Dallas, Texas, which will further improve A-Mark's ability to service customers on the East Coast as well as expands its overall capacity.
- Attractive Customer Economics: JMB's proven and proprietary online marketing strategies enable it to acquire customers at attractive rates and realize average order values at over 50x its customer acquisition cost (CAC).
- Highly Complementary Management Teams: The A-Mark and JMB senior leadership teams have significant precious metals market expertise and deep online and e-commerce experience. Both management teams have worked closely together since A-Mark's initial minority investment in JMB in 2014.

Management Commentary

"E-commerce platforms like JMB have been taking substantial market share from the traditional brick-and-mortar and offline coin dealers and are becoming a significantly growing share of the global precious metals market," said A-Mark CEO Greg Roberts. "With this acquisition, JMB immediately becomes the anchor in our direct-to-retail strategy, significantly bolstering A-Mark's capabilities and dramatically broadening our consumer-facing footprint and brand portfolio. Given our familiarity with JMB, including our close working relationship with its leaders and integrated workstreams, we are confident that as a truly unified organization, we will be able to more effectively capitalize on the burgeoning demand for precious metals through online and e-commerce channels."

Wittmeyer added: "Since our founding, we have been fortunate to be supported by high-quality partners like Greg and the A-Mark team, who have helped JMB pursue its mission to create one of the largest and fastest growing online retailers of precious metals in the world. With A-Mark's unmatched capabilities, integrated supply chain, and expansive product portfolio, JMB will be even better positioned to service our growing and valuable customer base."
