High Roller Receives Notice of Non-Compliance with NYSE American Continued Listing Standards

- Company plans to submit plan of compliance, confident it will demonstrate regained compliance with continued listing standards

Las Vegas, Nevada, June 06, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- High Roller Technologies ("High Roller" and the "Company") (NYSE: ROLR), operator of award-winning premium online casino brands High Roller and Fruta, provides an update regarding the status of its ongoing compliance with the listing standards of the NYSE American.

On June 4, 2025, the Company was notified by NYSE American LLC that due to reporting of stockholders' equity of approximately $2.8 million, the Company no longer meets the requirement that it must have no less than $4 million or more in stockholders' equity pursuant to the continued listing standards set forth under Section 1003(a)(ii) of the NYSE American Company Guide (the "Company Guide") because the Company has reported losses from continuing operations and/or net losses in three of its four most recent fiscal years ended December 31, 2024 and the Company does not qualify for an exemption under Section 1003(a) of the Company Guide.

The Company must by July 4, 2025, submit a compliance plan that demonstrates how it intends to regain compliance with the continued listing standards within 18 months of the receipt of the notice, or December 4, 2026. The Company intends to develop and submit to the NYSE American such a plan. If the NYSE American does not accept the plan, or if the Company does not make progress consistent with the plan during the plan period, the NYSE American will initiate delisting procedures. If the NYSE American accepts the plan the Company will be subject to periodic reviews including quarterly monitoring for compliance with the plan.

During this period, the Company's common stock will continue to be listed on the NYSE American and trade as usual subject to compliance with other NYSE American listing requirements.

High Roller is confident that it will submit a plan acceptable to the NYSE American within the requisite time period, and that it will promptly be able to demonstrate that it has regained compliance with the continued listing standards. However, there can be no assurance that our plan will be accepted by the NYSE or that we will regain compliance.

Ben Clemes, Chief Executive Officer at High Roller Technologies, said, "This matter of corporate administration was anticipated, and as such we have made the relevant filings and notifications consistent with the requirements of the NYSE. High Roller is in a transformative period, execution against our company strategy is on course, and we are highly confident that this will be resolved promptly.”
