Vuzix and Several Partners Demonstrate Growing Ecosystem of Advanced Applications Running on Vuzix Smart Glasses at CES 2025

- Moviynt, Augmex and Mentra will be providing hands-on demonstrations of their smart glasses applications

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 8, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Vuzix® Corporation (NASDAQ: VUZI), ("Vuzix" or, the "Company"), a leading supplier of smart glasses and Augmented Reality (AR) technology and products, is pleased to announce that the Company and several of its partners will demonstrate a powerful and diverse set of smart glasses applications running on Vuzix smart glasses at this year's Consumer Electronics Show being held in Las Vegas, Nevada on January 7-10.

Demonstrations at the Vuzix booth will include the following:

- Warehouse & Logistics: Vuzix wholly owned subsidiary Moviynt will be showing its Mobilium platform running on Vuzix M400 smart glasses. Mobilium bridges the gap between mobile devices and ERP systems, including SAP, and provides a studio to empower the rapid development of new workflows for warehouse and logistics operations, which eliminate inefficiencies and capture data from business processes at all levels of the organization.
- Remote support: Vuzix partner Augmex, a one-stop-shop solutions provider for increasing productivity with smart glasses, will be showing its AUGASSIST remote support solution running on Vuzix M400 smart glasses. AUGASSIST, equipped with advanced features such as live annotations, artificial intelligence (AI) and augmented reality (AR) overlays, not only minimizes downtime by enabling companies to provide immediate troubleshooting and guidance, but also significantly reduces the travel costs associated with sending engineers on-site.

- Conversational AI & Assisted Learning: Vuzix partner Mentra, composed of a team of human computer interface experts from MIT, will be featuring its Mentra Merge conversational AI app and Mentra Link real time language learning app on Vuzix Z100 smart glasses. Mentra Merge is the superintelligent agent that improves users' problem solving, creativity, and conversations using proactive AI. Mentra Link gives users live language acquisition input, overlaid on their vision, during second language conversations, as well as translations, captions, and insights available at a glance.

"Vuzix' family of smart glasses are the ideal platform to run advanced applications that will improve people's productivity, safety, and general quality of life," said Paul Travers, President and CEO of Vuzix. "We look forward to working with our valued software partners to continue expanding the industry-leading solutions available for enterprise users and consumers alike in 2025 and beyond."
