Bridge Investment Group Announces Chief Financial Officer, Chad Briggs to Retire and Chief Accounting Officer, Katie Elsnab to Become Chief Financial Officer

SALT LAKE CITY--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Bridge Investment Group Holdings Inc. (NYSE: BRDG) ("Bridge") announced today that Chad Briggs, Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") of the Company, has decided to retire effective May 31, 2022. Upon Mr. Briggs' retirement, Bridge is pleased to announce that Katie Elsnab, Bridge's current Chief Accounting Officer and Corporate Controller, will assume the role of CFO.

Executive Chairman, Robert Morse remarked "On behalf of everyone at Bridge, I thank Chad for his critical role in the formation and success of our company. Chad has been a trusted and valuable leader since joining our firm in 2010. In addition, Chad is credited with building the foundation of our strong finance team and retires knowing Bridge is very well positioned for continued success. We wish him all the best in his retirement."

Mr. Morse added, "We are also very happy to announce the expected promotion and appointment of our Chief Accounting Officer and Corporate Controller, Katie Elsnab, to CFO. Katie has been with Bridge since 2018 following 16 years as an auditor serving the real estate and financial services space at Ernst & Young. Katie was also integral in Bridge's successful initial public offering in 2021. She has been a perfect fit for Bridge since joining the company and we congratulate her on this next chapter in her career."

Mr. Briggs concluded, "I am very proud of what we have accomplished during my tenure. Having worked closely with Katie and the rest of the team, I can say with confidence that the Company's finance and accounting functions will be in excellent hands."
