SEI Wins 'Top OCIO Provider' at the 2017 Institutional Asset Management Awards

Company Recognized as a Top Performing OCIO

OAKS, Pa., Nov. 16, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- SEI (NASDAQ: SEIC) has been named 'Top OCIO Provider' at the 2017 Institutional Asset Management Awards, presented by the Fund Intelligence Group. The awards recognize best-in-class asset managers serving the institutional community. SEI was awarded 'Top OCIO Provider' over three other finalists based upon the votes from a panel of judges, including a selection of CIOs of foundations and endowments, as well as input from the editorial team at Money Management Report/Foundation & Endowment Report. Criteria also included industry reputation and past performance. Winners were announced at an event on November 15 in New York City.

"SEI has been providing OCIO services for over 25 years and that experience combined with our focus on innovating and evolving has allowed us to experience tremendous success," said Paul Klauder, Executive Vice President of SEI and Head of SEI's Institutional Group. "We continue to invest in our solution, experts, and technology to help deliver a program that best fits our clients. This award is a testament to the tremendous team here at SEI and their unrelenting commitment to providing more than 480 clients with the best OCIO solution in the market."

"The rigorous judging process takes into account many different factors, including industry reputation and performance," said Michael Paterakis, Editor at Money Management Report/Foundation & Endowment Report. "Through the process, we found SEI was a very popular choice among a satisfied group of institutional investors when it came to selecting an OCIO provider."
