Concentra Appoints Jason Cooper as Chief Data, Analytics, and Artificial Intelligence Officer

ADDISON, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Concentra®, (NYSE: CON) the nation's largest provider of occupational health services, today announced the appointment of Jason Cooper as Chief Data, Analytics, and Artificial Intelligence Officer. In this role, he will ensure Concentra's data strategy and governance, technology enablement, and insight generation are aligned with enterprise growth priorities.

"Selecting Jason as our Chief Data, Analytics, and Artificial Intelligence Officer represents the natural progression of Concentra's established foundation in data, technology, and innovation," said Keith Newton, Chief Executive Officer of Concentra. "His expertise and extensive experience will enable us to continue to operationalize data, optimize enterprise-wide analytics, and accelerate AI adoption."

An experienced senior leader with over 25 years of experience leveraging data and technology, Cooper excels in driving significant business outcomes across private, for-profit, and nonprofit sectors. His experience includes roles serving L3-Communications, MATRIC, CVS Caremark, Cigna, Blue Cross Blue Shield plans, consulting with VC- and PE-backed firms, and most recently HMS and Paradigm Corp.

"Concentra has always had a notable focus on data-driven outcomes, data governance, and digital connectivity," said Cooper. "I am excited to help build upon its significant background as an innovator and industry leader by championing the organization's data, analytics, and artificial intelligence efforts."

Cooper is an active member of the Society for Information Management and a Fellow of the American College of Health Data Management. He also serves on the board of directors for Covenant HR and as an advisor to .406 Ventures' Data and AI executive council.
