Richard MacPherson commented: "We are excited to participate in LD Micro during this pivotal period for Birchtech. Following the launch of our water purification business and continued growth in our air business – which is on-track to deliver at least $23 million in revenue in 2025 – we are well-positioned to drive sustained value for shareholders. Additionally, initial sales from our water business, expected to commence during mid-2025, will further enhance near-term revenue growth. We look forward to engaging with investors and sharing insights into our strategy and growth initiatives at the LD Micro investor conference."

Registration is required for conference participation. For more information or to schedule a meeting with management, please contact MZ Group at BCHT@mzgroup.us.
