1. Nature and continuation of operations:

Kane Biotech Inc. (the "Company") was established to use a patent protected technology intended to find compounds which prevent or disrupt microbial biofilms in medical and industrial applications. To date, the Company has no products in commercial production or use. Accordingly, the Company is considered to be a development stage enterprise for accounting purposes. Since May 17, 2001, the date of incorporation of Kane Biotech Inc., through to September 30, 2010, the Company has expended approximately $3,084,761, net of government assistance, on research.

The accompanying unaudited interim financial statements include the operations of the Company for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. These financial statements have not been reviewed by the Company's auditor. These statements should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2009.

The accompanying unaudited interim financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and on a basis consistent with the Company's annual audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2009 and are applicable to a going concern, which contemplates that Kane Biotech Inc. will continue in operation for the foreseeable future and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities and commitments in the normal course of business. The use of these principles may not be appropriate because at September 30, 2010 there was substantial doubt that the Company will be able to continue as a going concern as a result of the Company's operating losses and its working capital requirements at September 30, 2010.

The Company's future operations are completely dependent upon its ability to generate product sales, negotiate collaboration or licence agreements with upfront payments, obtain research grant funding, or other strategic alternatives, and/or secure additional funds. While the Company is striving to achieve the above plans, there is no assurance that such sources of funds will be available or obtained on favourable terms. If the Company cannot generate product sales, negotiate collaboration or licence agreements with upfront payments, obtain research grant funding, or if it cannot secure additional financing on terms that would be acceptable to it, the Company will have to consider additional strategic alternatives which may include, among other strategies, exploring the monetization of certain tangible and intangible assets as well as seeking to outlicense assets, potential asset divestitures, winding up, dissolution or liquidation of the Company.

The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern and to realize the carrying value of its assets and discharge its liabilities and commitments when due is dependent on the successful completion of the actions taken or planned, some of which are described above, which management believes will mitigate the adverse conditions and events which raise doubt about the validity of the going concern assumption used in preparing these financial statements. There is no certainty that these and other strategies will be sufficient to permit the Company to continue as a going concern.

These financial statements do not reflect adjustments in the carrying values of the Company's assets and liabilities, expenses, and the balance sheet classifications used, that would be necessary if the going concern assumption were not appropriate. Such adjustments could be material.

2. Significant accounting policies:

These interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited annual financial statements as at December 31, 2009. All accounting policies are the same as described in Note 2 of the Company's audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2009.

3. Recent accounting pronouncements:

(a) Convergence to International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"):

In 2006, the Canadian Accounting Standards Board (AcSB) published a new strategic plan that will significantly affect financial reporting requirements for Canadian companies. The AcSB's strategic plan outlines the convergence of Canadian GAAP with IFRS over a five-year transitional period. In February 2008, the AcSB announced that 2011 is the changeover date for publicly-listed companies to use IFRS, replacing Canada's own GAAP.

The date is for interim and annual financial statements relating to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2011. The Company's first year end under IFRS will be December 31, 2011. The transition date for the Company will be January 1, 2011 and will require the restatement for comparative purposes of amounts reported by the Company for the year ended December 31, 2010. While the Company has begun assessing the adoption of IFRS for fiscal 2011, the financial reporting impact of the transition to IFRS cannot be reasonably estimated at this time.

4. Financial instruments:

The Company has classified its financial instruments as follows:

	Septem	ber 30, 2010	December 31, 2009
Cinancial assets:  Cash and cash equivalents (Held-for-trading)  Accounts receivable (Loans and receivables)		165,697 46,333	$	804,919 104,373
	$	212,030	$	909,292
Financial liabilities: Accounts payable and accrued liabilities (Other financial liabilities)	$	74,788	$	68,618

The Company had neither available-for-sale, nor held-to-maturity financial instruments during the nine months ended September 30, 2010 or 2009. Cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities are financial instruments whose fair value approximates their carrying value due to their short-term maturity.

In November 2010, the Company concluded that the UNTHSC technology would no longer be pursued and consequently executed the termination letter thereby relinquishing future rights and obligations under the licence agreement. The Company had not made any upfront payments and no royalties had been paid.

On December 31, 2004, the Company acquired the worldwide exclusive rights to the Competence Stimulating Peptide (CSP) technology from the University of Toronto. In further consideration of granting of the license, the Company will pay a royalty to UTIF of a stipulated percentage of the net sales of the licensed products. If the Company sub-licenses any rights under the agreement to a third party, the Company shall pay UTIF a stipulated percentage of a sub-license fee and sub-license royalty fee. The royalty, sub-license and sub-license royalty fees, if any, are to be paid quarterly. The agreement terminates on the expiration or invalidity of the last patent issued under the agreement. There were no sales of licensed products to September 30, 2010.

On April 1, 2005, the Company acquired the worldwide exclusive license to all human and industrial applications of the DispersinB® enzyme from the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (UMDNJ) and paid a license initiation fee of $11,815 (USD $10,000). Under the terms of the agreement, the Company committed to: pay all costs of filing and maintaining the patents; pay a license initiation fee of USD $10,000 during the first year; and, additional negotiated milestone payments throughout the term of the agreement. The Company will also pay a royalty to UMDNJ of a stipulated percentage of the net sales of the licensed products. If the Company sub-licenses any rights under the agreement to a third party, the Company shall pay UMDNJ a stipulated percentage of a sub-license fee and sub-license royalty fee. The royalty, sub-license and sub-license royalty fees, if any, are to be paid quarterly. This agreement terminates on the expiration or invalidity of the last patent issued under the agreement. During fiscal 2006, the Company negotiated an expansion to the scope of the original license agreement with UMDNJ and, as a result, paid an additional fee of $8,735 (USD $7,500). During fiscal 2007, as a result of the issuance of a patent, a $10,000 milestone payment was incurred. The Company recognizes the effect of forfeitures on unvested options as they occur.

The agreement shall be automatically renewed for succeeding terms of one year on terms to be mutually agreed upon by the parties. The Company may terminate this agreement at any time upon 90 days written notice.

(b) Guarantees:

The Company periodically enters into research and licence agreements with third parties that include indemnification provisions customary in the industry. These guarantees generally require the Company to compensate the other party for certain damages and costs incurred as a result of claims arising from research and development activities undertaken on behalf of the Company. In some cases, the maximum potential amount of future payments that could be required under these indemnification provisions could be unlimited. These indemnification provisions generally survive termination of the underlying agreement. The nature of the indemnification obligations prevents the Company from making a reasonable estimate of the maximum potential amount it could be required to pay. Historically, the Company has not made any indemnification payments under such agreements and no amount has been accrued in the accompanying financial statements with respect to these indemnification obligations.

11. Capital risk management:

The Company's objectives when managing capital are:

- To safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern in order to pursue the development of its products and to maintain a flexible capital structure which optimizes the cost of capital at an acceptable level; and
- To provide an adequate return to shareholders commensurate with the level of risk associated with a development stage biotechnology company.

The capital structure of the Company consists of equity comprising issued capital, contributed surplus, and warrants.

The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of economic conditions. The Company, upon approval from its Board of Directors, will balance its overall capital structure through new share issues, granting of stock options, the issue of debt or by undertaking other activities as deemed appropriate under the specific circumstances. The Company's overall strategy with respect to capital risk management remains unchanged from the year ended December 31, 2009.

The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements. In order to maximize ongoing research and development of its products, the Company does not pay out dividends.

12. Financial risk management:

The Company has exposure to credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk. The Company's Board of Directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Company's risk management framework. The audit committee of the board is responsible to review the Company's risk management policies.

(a) Credit Risk:

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Company's accounts receivable and cash and cash equivalents. The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure.

The Company has investment policies to mitigate against the deterioration of principal and to enhance the Company's ability to meet its liquidity needs. Cash and cash equivalents are on deposit with a credit union and guaranteed by the Credit Union Deposit Guarantee Corporation of Manitoba.

12. Financial risk management (continued):

(b) Liquidity Risk:

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due and to fund future operations. The Company manages its liquidity risk by forecasting its cash needs on a regular basis and seeking additional financing based on those forecasts.

As at September 30, 2010, the Company had financial assets held-for-trading of $165,697 (December 31, 2009 - $804,919), loans and receivables of $46,333 (December 31, 2009 - $104,373) and other financial liabilities of $74,788 (December 31, 2009 - $68,618). All of the Company's financial liabilities have contracted maturities of less than one year.

(c) Market Risk:

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates and equity prices that will affect the Company's income or the value of its financial instruments.

The Company is exposed to the financial risk related to the fluctuation of foreign exchange rates. The Company operates primarily within Canada although a portion of its expenses are incurred in United States dollars ("US dollar"). The Company has not entered into foreign exchange derivative contracts. A significant change in the currency exchange rates between the Canadian dollar relative to the US dollar could have an effect on the Company's results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

As at September 30, 2010, the Company is exposed to currency risk through its cash and cash equivalents and accounts payable denominated in US dollars as follows:

	September 30, 2010	December 31, 2009
Cash and cash equivalents Accounts receivable Accounts payable	$ 8,510 12,905 (32,326)	$ 19,266 23,495 (22,701)
Net	$ (10,911)	$ 20,060

Based on the above net exposures as at September 30, 2010, and assuming that all other variables remain constant, a 5% appreciation or deterioration of the Canadian dollar against the US dollar would not be significant.

The Company is subject to interest rate risk on its cash and cash equivalents. The Company believes that interest rate risk is low as the Company does not hold any term deposits and interest earned on cash equivalents is variable. A change of 1% in interest rates over the nine months ended September 30, 2010 would not have been significant.
