"Bringing these two teams together is a sales power play for emerging vendors and tech

The new EBG team combines the high-touch services, specialization, and speed of Promark Technology with the power, performance, and partnership of Ingram Micro's emerging vendor team. The two teams are recognized for their success in launching many of today's leading and fast-growing channel-friendly, emerging tech vendors including Artic Wolf Networks, Bitdefender, Blancco, ENET, Nutanix, Proofpoint and Scale Computing, and Tenable, and will be participating at the Ingram Micro ONE Experience Nov 4-5, 2020.

"Bringing these two teams together is a sales power play for emerging vendors and tech innovators who are serious about establishing and scaling their success in the IT channel," says Eric Kohl, vice president, U.S. Advanced Solutions, Ingram Micro. "The synergies gained will bring an unbeatable and sustainable business advantage to emerging vendors and tech innovators across the U.S., and serve as a funnel of knowledge and growing opportunity for our mutual channel partners focused on cybersecurity, data center and
