Kartoon Studios' Beacon Media Partners With Bandai on Tamagotchi's Landmark 30th Anniversary Times Square Celebration

Beacon Media Brings Bandai's Visionary Tamagotchi 30th Anniversary Celebration to Life With an Immersive Times Square Fan Experience, Culminating in a Spectacular Synchronized Screen Takeover on November 22

Bandai's Landmark Tamagotchi 30th Anniversary Celebration Transforms Times Square Into a Global Stage, Highlighting Beacon Media's Role in Creating Major Entertainment Moments.

BEVERLY HILLS, CA / ACCESS Newswire / November 20, 2026 /Kartoon Studios (NYSE American:TOON) today announced that its Beacon Media subsidiary has partnered with Bandai Namco Toys & Collectibles America Inc. on the upcoming Tamagotchi Times Square Spectacular event, a landmark celebration of the global pop-culture phenomenon's 30th anniversary on November 22 in New York City.

Driven by Bandai, the free, all-day celebration will bring Tamagotchi fans to the heart of Times Square for an interactive experience culminating in a one-night-only, 30-minute takeover of some of the world's most iconic digital screens. The event is expected to be a defining public moment in the brand's anniversary year, connecting longtime fans with a new generation of consumers.

For Kartoon Studios, the engagement highlights Beacon Media's role in supporting a major global brand at a high-visibility cultural moment. The Times Square activation provides a prominent platform for a Tamagotchi anniversary story and demonstrates the type of integrated communications opportunity Beacon Media Group can support for leading brands across entertainment, toys, collectibles and consumer products.

"The Tamagotchi 30th anniversary is a terrific example of the scale, cultural relevance and broad consumer appeal that can come together around an iconic global brand," said Kathleen Campisano, Global CMO & General Manager of Beacon Media Group. "We're pleased to be working with Bandai to help bring this milestone to life in one of the world's most visible settings. Times Square creates an extraordinary opportunity to engage fans, generate attention and celebrate a brand that has connected generations."

Tamagotchi debuted in Japan in 1996 and has since grown from a pioneering digital pet into a global pop-culture phenomenon spanning generations. The brand has shipped more than 100 million devices worldwide, reflecting its enduring connection with fans and continued relevance across toys, fashion, lifestyle collaborations, customization and digital experiences.

"Technology and the way we connect have changed enormously in 30 years, but the simple emotional connection at the heart of Tamagotchi has not," stated Taro Tsuji, Chief Tamagotchi Officer. "Seeing what started as a few special pixels in 1996 now light up Times Square three decades later is a remarkable way to celebrate how far the brand has come. It gives us the chance to bring longtime fans and a new generation together for a moment of appreciation and celebration that belongs to all of them."

The Times Square Spectacular anchors a broader wave of anniversary activity across the New York region and beyond. Additional experiences include a Tamagotchi activation at the FAO Schwarz flagship at 30 Rockefeller Plaza; MINISO pop-ups at American Dream in East Rutherford, New Jersey, and Barton Creek Square in Austin, Texas; and a month-long 30th anniversary experience inside Roblox's Main Street RP. Anniversary promotions will also take place at select Bandai retail locations and partner destinations throughout the New York area.
