Management Commentary

"We are exceptionally pleased with our performance this past quarter. Community Broadband numbers are on par with last year, mainly due to a higher percentage of our business coming from customers connecting the homes that they have previously passed. Clearfield has long been known for the labor-saving potential of our FieldSmart line of fiber management cabinets and panels. Moving forward, these labor-saving benefits are also being recognized with our FieldShield line for connecting homes and businesses," said Company President and Chief Executive Officer, Cheri Beranek. "As we continue to navigate this gradual industry-wide recovery, we are diligently working to not only service our existing customers but to also attract customers both new to fiber and those looking to transition their spend to an alternative carrier. We remain committed to meeting the Build America Buy America ("BABA") Act requirements across our product lines by fiscal year-end. However, significant Broadband Equity, Access, and Deployment ("BEAD") Program revenue is not expected until late calendar 2025 due to milestones inherent within the national program," said Beranek.

"Gross margins improved due to better capacity utilization, and lower inventory reserve costs, leading to a notable improvement in bottom-line performance," said Chief Financial Officer Dan Herzog. "As we transition out of the build season, we anticipated the reduction in backlog as broadband service providers realign orders for winter operations and year-end planning. We are actively working with certain key customers to put in place multi-year supply agreements that will provide better visibility going forward. We remain confident in our business and our ability to gain market share. During the third quarter we also repurchased $5.5 million in shares under our share buyback program, and have approximately $25 million available for additional repurchases," noted Herzog.

Financial Results for the Three Months Ended June 30, 2024

Net sales for the third quarter of fiscal 2024 decreased 20% to $48.8 million from $61.3 million in the same year-ago quarter.

As of June 30, 2024, order backlog (defined as purchase orders received but not yet fulfilled) was $32.6 million, a decrease of $14.6 million, or 31%, compared to $47.2 million as of March 31, 2024, and a decrease of $42.1 million, or 56%, from June 30, 2023.

Gross margin for the third quarter of fiscal 2024 was 21.9%, compared to 31.1% in the third quarter of fiscal 2023. While gross margin was down from the year ago quarter, it showed a significant improvement from the previous quarter gross margin of 7.7% due to improved production capacity and lower excess inventory charges due to better utilization from higher revenue in the quarter.

Operating expenses for the third quarter of fiscal 2024 decreased 3% to $13.0 million, or 26.6% of net sales, from $13.4 million, or 21.9% of net sales, in the same year-ago quarter.

Net loss for the third quarter of fiscal 2024 totaled $0.4 million, or ($0.04) per diluted share, compared to net income of $5.2 million, or $0.33 per diluted share, in the same year-ago quarter. In the quarter, we repurchased approximately $5.5 million in shares under our Share Repurchase Program. There is $24.9 million remaining for future repurchases as of June 30, 2024.

Outlook

At this time and after considering the expected impacts of seasonality and the current state of the industry, the Company expects net sales for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024 to be in the range of $40 million to $43 million and net loss per share to be in the range of $0.17 to $0.22. This loss per share range is based on the number of shares outstanding at the end of the third quarter and does not reflect potential share repurchases completed in the fourth quarter.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Information

Forward-looking statements contained herein and in any related presentation or in the related Earnings Presentation are made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Words such as "may," "plan," "expect," "aim," "believe," "project," "target," "anticipate," "intend," "estimate," "will," "should," "could," "outlook," or "continue" or comparable terminology are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Such forward looking statements include, for example, statements about the Company's future revenue and operating performance, expected customer ordering patterns and future supply agreements with customers, anticipated shipping on backlog and future lead times, future availability of components and materials from the Company's supply chain, compliance with Build America Buy America ("BABA") Act requirements, future availability of labor impacting our customers' network builds, the impact of the Broadband Equity, Access, and Deployment (BEAD) Program, Rural Digital Opportunity Fund (RDOF) or other government programs on the demand for the Company's products or timing of customer orders, the Company's ability to match capacity to meet demand, expansion into new markets and trends in and growth of the FTTx markets, market segments or customer purchases and other statements that are not historical facts. These statements are based upon the Company's current expectations and judgments about future developments in the Company's business. Certain important factors could have a material impact on the Company's performance, including, without limitation: inflationary price pressures and uncertain availability of components, raw materials, labor and logistics used by us and our suppliers could negatively impact our profitability; we rely on single-source suppliers, which could cause delays, increase costs or prevent us from completing customer orders; we depend on the availability of sufficient supply of certain materials and global disruptions in the supply chain for these materials could prevent us from meeting customer demand for our products; a significant percentage of our sales in the last three fiscal years have been made to a small number of customers, and the loss of these major customers could adversely affect us; further consolidation among our customers may result in the loss of some customers and may reduce sales during the pendency of business combinations and related integration activities; we may be subject to risks associated with acquisitions, and the risks could adversely affect future operating results; we have exposure to movements in foreign currency exchange rates; adverse global economic conditions and geopolitical issues could have a negative effect on our business, and results of operations and financial condition; growth may strain our business infrastructure, which could adversely affect our operations and financial condition; product defects or the failure of our products to meet specifications could cause us to lose customers and sales or to incur unexpected expenses; we are dependent on key personnel; cyber-security incidents, including ransomware, data breaches or computer viruses, could disrupt our business operations, damage our reputation, result in increased expense, and potentially lead to legal proceedings; our business is dependent on interdependent management information systems; natural disasters, extreme weather conditions or other catastrophic events could negatively affect our business, financial condition, and operating results; pandemics and other health crises, including COVID-19, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and operating results; to compete effectively, we must continually improve existing products and introduce new products that achieve market acceptance; if the telecommunications market does not continue to expand, our business may not grow as fast as we expect, which could adversely impact our business, financial condition and operating results; changes in U.S. government funding programs may cause our customers and prospective customers to delay, reduce, or accelerate purchases, leading to unpredictable and irregular purchase cycles; intense competition in our industry may result in price reductions, lower gross profits and loss of market share; our success depends upon adequate protection of our patent and intellectual property rights; we face risks associated with expanding our sales outside of the United States; expectations relating to environmental, social and governance matters may increase our cost of doing business and expose us to reputational harm and potential liability; our operating results may fluctuate significantly from quarter to quarter, which may make budgeting for expenses difficult and may negatively affect the market price of our common stock; our stock price has been volatile historically and may continue to be volatile - the price of our common stock may fluctuate significantly; anti-takeover provisions in our organizational documents, Minnesota law and other agreements could prevent or delay a change in control of our Company; and other factors set forth in Part I, Item 1A. Risk Factors of Clearfield's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended September 30, 2023 as well as other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Company undertakes no obligation to update these statements to reflect actual events unless required by law.
