– Anticipates preliminary unaudited fourth quarter 2025 revenue of approximately $190 million; full-year 2025 revenue of $727 million –

– Announces Chief Financial Officer transition –

FORT MYERS, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- NeoGenomics, Inc. (NASDAQ:NEO), a leading provider of oncology diagnostic solutions that enable precision medicine, today announced preliminary fourth quarter and full-year 2025 revenue and also announced a transition of the Company's Chief Financial Officer.

Preliminary, Unaudited Fourth Quarter and Full-Year 2025 Revenue

- For the fourth quarter of 2025, NeoGenomics expects to report total revenue of approximately $190 million, representing year-over-year growth of 11%.
- For the full-year 2025, NeoGenomics expects to report total revenue of approximately $727 million, representing year-over-year growth of 10%.

"Our preliminary fourth quarter revenue reflects our ongoing commitment to being the cancer testing 'partner of choice' to pathologists and oncologists in the community setting, where approximately 80% of cancer care is delivered today," stated Tony Zook, CEO of NeoGenomics. "With one of the broadest oncology test menus in the industry, including the latest innovations in therapy selection and recurrence monitoring, I believe we are very well positioned to continue on our trajectory of double-digit revenue growth while helping improve outcomes for cancer patients across the U.S."

Chief Financial Officer Transition

NeoGenomics also announced today a Chief Financial Officer succession plan. Life sciences tools and diagnostics industry veteran Abhishek Jain joined the company as Executive Vice President on January 12, 2026, and will transition to the role of CFO on March 2, 2026. NeoGenomics' current CFO, Jeff Sherman, is retiring and will transition from the role of CFO to Executive Vice President on March 2, 2026, upon the completion of the Company's audit and reporting of its financial results for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025. Mr. Sherman will remain with the Company through April 14, 2026, the effective date of his retirement, in order to ensure a smooth and seamless transition.

"Abhishek brings a proven track record of successfully guiding life sciences companies through periods of rapid growth and transformation, and I look forward to his financial leadership as we continue to scale our organization and pursue multi-billion-dollar addressable markets in advanced cancer testing,” continued Mr. Zook. “At the same time, on behalf of the entire NeoGenomics team and Board, I would like to thank Jeff for his valuable contributions to our growth and progress over the past three-plus years. Jeff has been instrumental in strengthening our financial foundation and positioning us for long-term success. We wish him all the best in his retirement.”

“I am honored to join the NeoGenomics team at this pivotal time in the company’s evolution,” stated Mr. Jain. “NeoGenomics has built a strong foundation in precision oncology diagnostics, and I look forward to working with the leadership team to further strengthen financial discipline, enhance operational efficiency, and support long-term value creation for shareholders while advancing our mission to improve patient care.”

“It has been an honor and privilege to work alongside the talented team at NeoGenomics and position the company for long-term sustainable, profitable growth,” stated Jeff Sherman, CFO of NeoGenomics. “I have every confidence in the company’s ability to bring the latest innovations in therapy election and MRD to oncologists and pathologists in the community channel, where these advancements have historically lagged NCI-designated cancer centers.”

Prior to joining NeoGenomics, Mr. Jain served as Chief Financial Officer of CareDx, a publicly traded precision medicine company focused on the discovery, development, and commercialization of clinically differentiated, high-value healthcare solutions for transplant patients and caregivers, from September 2022 to August 2025. Before joining CareDx, he served for nearly 20 years in finance and accounting roles of increasing responsibility at Agilent Technologies, Inc., a global leader in analytical and clinical laboratory technologies. Mr. Jain is a Certified Public Accountant (inactive), and a Chartered Accountant from The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Note Regarding Preliminary, Unaudited Financial Results

NeoGenomics has not completed preparation of its financial statements for the fourth quarter or fiscal year ended December 31, 2025. The estimated revenues presented in this press release for the fourth quarter of 2025 and for the year ended December 31, 2025, are based on preliminary unaudited information and management estimates, are not a comprehensive statement of the Company’s financial results for either the fourth quarter or fiscal year ended December 31, 2025, and are subject to change. NeoGenomics is in the process of completing its customary year-end close procedures, and there can be no assurance that final results will not differ from these estimates. During the course of the preparation of NeoGenomics’ consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025, the company’s independent auditors may identify items that could cause final reported results to be materially different from the preliminary financial estimates presented today.

NeoGenomics plans to report full fourth-quarter and full-year 2025 financial results during its February 2026 earnings call.
