Duos Technologies Completes Software Deployment for Major Independent Oil and Gas Company

Centraco 3.0 Consolidates Safety and Security Systems Across Multiple Facilities

JACKSONVILLE, FL -- (Marketwired) -- 07/11/16 -- Duos Technologies Group, Inc. (OTCQB: DUOT), a provider of intelligent analytical technology solutions, has successfully completed the rollout of its centraco third-generation intelligent command and control software platform to a national independent oil and natural gas company. The contract is valued in excess of $400,000. This deployment consolidates several systems used for safety and security monitoring and administration throughout all of their facilities. Centraco 3.0 is a powerful enterprise-level software management suite, which incorporates the traditional "Physical Security Information Management" ("PSIM") functionality with a comprehensive Enterprise Information Management ("EIM") feature set that will leverage the Oil and Gas company's IT infrastructure.

"Our feature rich centraco platform integrated fifteen different technologies to manage various video management systems, access control, intrusion detection, and fire alarm systems at 25 different locations throughout multiple states into a single user interface," stated Felix Krupczynski, EVP & GM for Duos Technologies. "Centraco's extensive integrated real-time alarm reporting engine has proven to be a powerful and unique management tool that also provides flexibility and scalability, thereby expanding the user's monitoring capabilities and functionality as they continue to expand their operations."
