BioSig's PURE EP(tm) System Evaluated with Patients at Mayo Clinic in Arizona

Westport, CT, April 27, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) --

- The clinic is conducting an evaluation of the PURE EP(tm) System, a signal processing technology for cardiac arrhythmia treatments
- New installation follows Mayo Clinic in Florida that has been conducting patient cases with the technology since January 2020

BioSig Technologies, Inc. (NASDAQ: BSGM) ("BioSig" or the "Company"), a medical technology company commercializing an innovative biomedical signal processing platform designed to improve signal fidelity and uncover the full range of ECG and intra-cardiac signals, today announced that the physicians at Mayo Clinic's campus in Phoenix, Arizona have started using the Company's PURE EP(tm) System in the patient cases treating cardiac arrhythmias.

The 30-day clinical evaluation of the PURE EP(tm) System is being conducted by the cardiac electrophysiologists Win-Kuang Shen, M.D., Hichan El Masry, M.D., Arturo Valverde, M.D. and Luis Scott, M.D.

"We are pleased to expand our installation to a new Mayo Clinic campus, an institution that played, and continues to play, a vital role in defining the clinical value of the PURE EP(tm) System. We are thankful to all our physician collaborators and EP fellows at Mayo Clinic and look forward to reporting on more clinical and commercial progress," commented Kenneth L. Londoner, Chairman, and CEO of BioSig Technologies, Inc.

Mayo Clinic cares for more than one million people a year, from all 50 states and nearly 140 countries. The institution has consistently ranked at or near the top of the 'Best Hospitals Honor Roll'.

To date, more than 660 patient cases have been conducted with the PURE EP(tm) System by over 40 physicians across nine clinical sites, including Texas Cardiac Arrhythmia Institute at St. David's Medical Center in Austin, TX, Mayo Clinic's campus in Jacksonville, Florida, Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, MA and University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, PA.

About BioSig Technologies

BioSig Technologies is a medical technology company commercializing a proprietary biomedical signal processing platform designed to improve signal fidelity and uncover the full range of ECG and intra-cardiac signals (www.biosig.com).

The Company's first product, PURE EP(tm) System is a computerized system intended for acquiring, digitizing, amplifying, filtering, measuring and calculating, displaying, recording and storing of electrocardiographic and intracardiac signals for patients undergoing electrophysiology (EP) procedures in an EP laboratory.
