NeoGenomics Awarded Clinical Reference Laboratory Testing Services Agreement with Premier

FT. MYERS, Fla., Sept. 12, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- NeoGenomics, Inc. (NASDAQ: NEO), a leading provider of cancer-focused genetic testing services, announced today that it has been awarded a group purchasing agreement for clinical reference laboratory testing services with Premier. Effective, October 1, 2018, the new agreement allows Premier members, at their discretion, to take advantage of special pricing and terms pre-negotiated by Premier for clinical reference laboratory services.

"We are pleased that Premier has awarded this group purchasing agreement to NeoGenomics. The agreement underscores NeoGenomics' unique position as a national, oncology-focused laboratory," said Douglas M. VanOort, Chairman and CEO of NeoGenomics. "We look forward to providing a comprehensive suite of cancer tests, along with our tradition of outstanding customer service, to Premier members across the country."

NeoGenomics provides expert bone marrow and surgical pathology consults; cancer cytogenetics with industry-leading turnaround times; hematologic and solid tumor FISH testing with the largest menu of technical-only services available; 10-color flow cytometry; histology supported by an extensive IHC antibody library; and >150 molecular oncology tests comprising the most comprehensive combination of multi-method tumor profiles and targeted biomarker tests in the industry. Our technical-only testing programs feature on-demand or live training and are available to pathologists who wish to sign out FISH, flow cytometry, and/or IHC.

We support clients in many cancer-related market segments including hospital and private pathology laboratories, office-based oncologists, academic institutions, contract research and pharmaceutical development organizations, and more.

Premier is a leading healthcare improvement company, uniting an alliance of approximately 4,000 U.S. hospitals and 165,000 other providers to transform healthcare. With integrated data and analytics, collaboratives, supply chain solutions, and advisory and other services, Premier enables better care and outcomes at a lower cost.
