Dynex Capital, Inc. Reports Third Quarter 2020 Results

Significant increase in book value drives quarterly total economic return of 11.7%

GLEN ALLEN, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Dynex Capital, Inc. (NYSE: DX) reported its third quarter 2020 results today. Management will host a call today at 10:00 a.m. Eastern Time to discuss the results and business outlook. Details to access the call can be found below under "Earnings Conference Call".

Management Remarks

"Our up-in credit and up-in-liquidity investment and hedging strategy led to a solid total economic return of 11.7% for the third quarter," commented Byron L. Boston, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Book value per common share increased as we were well positioned to benefit from improved asset valuations from tighter credit spreads. Our third quarter core earnings increased significantly as we added investments during the quarter and we continued to benefit from a low funding rate and favorable TBA dollar roll environment with our investment strategy."

Mr. Boston added, "Year-to-date, our total economic return is 8.4%, and our book value is now above where it was at December 31, 2019. Our outlook for the balance of 2020 looks favorable given the funding environment and central bank support of the economy and risk assets, notwithstanding the uncertainty of the trajectory of fiscal policy and the medium term economic outlook."

Financial Highlights

- Comprehensive income of $1.92 per common share and net income of $1.62 per common share
- Quarterly total economic return to common shareholders of 11.7%
- Net interest spread and adjusted net interest spread of 1.96% and 2.00%, respectively, for the third quarter of 2020 compared to 1.96% and 1.96%, respectively, for the second quarter of 2020
- Core net operating income, a non-GAAP measure, of $0.61 per common share
- Book value per common share of $18.25 as of September 30, 2020 compared to $16.69 as of June 30, 2020
- Dividends declared of $0.39 per common share
- Leverage including TBA long positions of 6.2x shareholders' equity

Business Activity

- Sold $382.3 million of Agency CMBS, realizing a gain of $20.8 million as spreads tightened substantially
- Re-positioned hedge portfolio by terminating a notional amount of $425.0 million in interest rate swaps and shifting options to longer-dated tenors in order to maximize

- liquidity and to protect the portfolio under various rate scenarios
- Asset allocation as of September 30, 2020 has shifted to 83% Agency RMBS including TBAs and 7% CMBS compared to 76% and 15%, respectively, as of the end of the second quarter
- Effective October 27, 2020, Ms. Julia Coronado, former Federal Reserve economist and Ms. Joy Palmer, former deputy chief accountant of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, joined the Board of Directors concurrent with the resignation of Ms. Valerie Mosley

Results Discussion

The Company's book value per common share increased $1.56 during the third quarter of 2020 as credit spreads continued to tighten on MBS. This increase in fair value of MBS was the primary component of comprehensive income to common shareholders of $44.5 million for the third quarter of 2020, of which the Company monetized a portion of its Agency CMBS portfolio at a gain of $20.8 million. Though net interest spread remained flat at 1.96% for the third quarter versus the second quarter, net interest income increased $1.7 million for the third quarter of 2020 compared to the second quarter due primarily to lower financing costs offsetting declines in average earning asset yields, while a larger average balance of interest earning assets contributed to a modest increase in interest income. The Company's results also include a net gain on derivative instruments of $8.0 million, the majority of which is comprised of realized gains from TBA securities. The Company has increased its investments in TBA securities as implied funding costs remained lower for TBA dollar roll transactions versus repurchase agreement financing typically used for specified pools.

Core net operating income to common shareholders, a non-GAAP measure, was $14.2 million for the third quarter of 2020, which includes $6.1 million in TBA drop income. An increase in TBA drop income, together with lower repo funding costs and a larger average interest earning asset basis as noted above, were the primary drivers of the Company's core net operating income, which increased $5.8 million, or $0.25 per common share, to $0.61 per common share, compared to the second quarter of 2020.

Earnings Conference Call

As previously announced, the Company's quarterly conference call to discuss these results is today at 10:00 a.m. Eastern Time and may be accessed via telephone in the U.S. or by live audio webcast through the "Current Events" section on the homepage of the Company's website (www.dynexcapital.com), which includes a slide presentation,. Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

In addition to the Company's operating results presented in accordance with GAAP, this release includes certain non-GAAP financial measures including core net operating income to common shareholders (including per common share), adjusted net interest income and the related metric adjusted net interest spread. Because these measures are used in the Company's internal analysis of financial and operating performance, management believes that they provide greater transparency to our investors of management's view of our economic performance. Management also believes the presentation of these measures, when analyzed in conjunction with the Company's GAAP operating results, allows investors to more effectively evaluate and compare the performance of the Company to that of its peers, although the Company's presentation of its non-GAAP measures may not be comparable to other similarly-titled measures of other companies. Schedules reconciling core net operating income to common shareholders and adjusted net interest income to GAAP financial measures are provided further below.

Management views core net operating income to common shareholders as an estimate of the Company's investment portfolio performance based on the effective yield of its investments, net of financing costs and other normal recurring operating income/expense, net. In addition to the non-GAAP reconciliation set forth below, which derives core net operating income to common shareholders from GAAP comprehensive income to common shareholders, core net operating income to common shareholders can also be determined by adjusting net interest income to include interest rate swap periodic interest benefit/cost, drop income on TBA dollar roll transactions, general and administrative expenses, and preferred dividends. Drop income generated by TBA dollar roll positions, which is included in "gain (loss) on derivatives instruments, net" on the Company's consolidated statements of comprehensive income, is included in core net operating income and in adjusted net interest income because management views drop income as the economic equivalent of net interest income (interest income less implied financing cost) on the underlying Agency security from trade date to settlement date. Management also includes interest rate swap periodic interest benefit/cost, which is also included in "gain (loss) on derivatives instruments, net", in adjusted net interest income because interest rate swaps are used by the Company to economically hedge the impact of changing interest rates on its borrowing costs from repurchase agreements, and therefore represent a cost of financing in addition to GAAP interest expense. However, these non-GAAP measures do not provide a full perspective on our results of operations, and therefore, their usefulness is limited. For example, these non-GAAP measures do not include gains or losses from available-for-sale investments, changes in fair value of and costs of terminating interest rate swaps, as well as realized and unrealized gains or losses from any instrument used by management to economically hedge the impact of changing interest rates on the fair value of its portfolio and book value per common share. As a result, these non-GAAP measures should be considered as a supplement to, and not as a substitute for, the Company's GAAP results as reported on its consolidated statements of comprehensive income.
