Coveo Brings Seamless Search Integration to Adobe Experience Manager

Coveo provides brands with next-generation approach to search and recommendations on Experience Manager-powered sites

MONTREAL and SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Coveo Solutions Inc. (“Coveo” or the “Company”) (TSX: CVO), a leader in relevance platforms that helps to transform search, recommendations, and personalization within digital experiences, today announced a deeper native integration with Adobe Experience Manager, the industry-leading combo for content and digital asset management. Poly, Synopsys, and VIZIO are just a few of the global brands benefiting from Coveo’s search and relevance solution for Adobe Experience Cloud.

Coveo for Adobe delivers AI-powered search that helps make it easier for digital leaders and developers to bring Google-like search experiences to Adobe-powered websites, intranets, online stores, and technical documentation. Coveo helps organizations quickly optimize their Experience Manager-powered sites with its robust, relevant from day one search. Additionally, it combines pre-packaged machine learning models for query suggestion, automatic re-ranking, dynamic faceting, question answering, and recommendations, alongside a new native connector for indexing content.

Key Features:

- Crawl and index Experience Manager content natively with a Coveo connector, with automatic indexing on publish and reindexing using AEM Workflows.
- Easily add Coveo Search to your Experience Manager component library or build a custom search UI with our headless toolkit and directly with the API.
- Optimize search with low and no-code tools for activating machine learning models and tuning result rankings, search terms, and query expressions.
- Manage search configuration changes with low and pro-code tools that make it simple to tune relevance and promote changes from sandbox to production.

“Coveo’s native integration delivers a powerful and seamless search experience and personalized recommendations for Adobe Experience Manager,” said Marie-Michele, SVP of Alliances at Coveo. “Together, we help to make content discovery faster and more relevant with the power of applied AI.”

“In today’s fast-moving digital economy, consumers expect every aspect of the digital experience to be intuitive and easy to use,” said Haresh Kumar, Director of Product

Marketing, Adobe Experience Manager Sites at Adobe. “With the Coveo integration, brands can now leverage AI-powered search to guide customers to the most relevant information and surface the right answers at the right time.”
