Under the terms of the loan, the Company, at the initial closing, drew $7.5 million of the $15 million available. The Company could draw down against the remainder should it be needed to fund further profitable acquisitions in the future. The loan amortizes over 30 months and bears interest at a rate of 13% per annum, 8.5% payable in cash on the first day of each month hereafter and 3.5% PIK payable each month in arrears. Concurrent with the initial closing of the debt facility, the Company also received a $1.5 million loan from CEO Allan Marshall under similar terms, with the same amortization schedule, fees, and interest, though no conversion feature.

CEO Allan Marshall stated, "Since our IPO last June, we have driven growth and increased profitability. Our commitment to our shareholders is evident in this type of financing and management estimates the company's current cash flow should be able to support this transaction. I am excited to commit more capital alongside our investors and look forward to another great year of growth and the opportunities that may come."
