

HoloVision™ Brings Products To life With 3-D Interactive Display

Chatsworth, California – A consumer reaches for a 3-D image floating in space. Provision Interactive Technologies, Inc. of Chatsworth, California is offering HoloVision™, a revolutionary new interactive communications system, to the retailing and advertising industries. The 3-Dimensional displays are interactive and feature movable images that appear to float in space without the need for glasses or other depth enhancing devices.

HoloVision™ is being marketed as a stand-alone 3-D interactive display for retail stores, kiosks and shopping centers. It is also being offered as a networked display system that provides streaming media of 3-D images to the individual displays.
