Navidea Biopharmaceuticals Announces Decision by Ohio Supreme Court

DUBLIN, Ohio--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Navidea Biopharmaceuticals, Inc. (NYSE American: NAVB) ("Navidea" or the "Company"), a company focused on the development of precision immunodiagnostic agents and immunotherapeutics, today announced that the Ohio Supreme Court has dismissed a Petition filed by Capital Royalty Partners II, L.P. and affiliated entities.

On August 27, 2018, Capital Royalty Partners II, L.P. and several affiliated entities ("CRG") filed a Petition with the Ohio Supreme Court seeking a Writ of Prohibition against the Honorable Mark A. Serrott asserting that Judge Serrott's refusal to dismiss Navidea Biopharmaceuticals, Inc.'s pending Ohio litigation against CRG was improper and that Judge Serrott lacked jurisdiction over CRG with respect to the case issues. Judge Serrott filed a motion to dismiss the petition on September 18, 2018 asserting that his actions were proper and within the bounds permitted by law. Navidea also sought to intervene in the matter and also asserted that Judge Serrott acted properly in finding he had jurisdiction over CRG. The Ohio Supreme Court issued its decision without an opinion on January 23, 2019 dismissing CRG's petition. With this dismissal, the path is now clear for a resumption of Navidea's Ohio litigation against CRG.
