Axalta Introduces Axalta Nimbus™, an Advanced Cloud-Based Platform for Refinish Customers, to Improve Productivity and Performance

Axalta Nimbus connects all of Axalta's tools and resources in a single platform helping customers to do business smarter

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Axalta (NYSE: AXTA), a leading global coatings company, today announced the launch of Axalta Nimbus, its global customer experience platform for refinish customers. This technology seamlessly connects customers to all of Axalta's tools and resources to improve efficiency, enhance productivity, boost performance, and maximize profitability. Axalta Nimbus provides a cohesive, end-to-end experience for customers around the globe.

With Axalta Nimbus, customers have everything they need to power the refinish process in a single platform, including color retrieval, product ordering, inventory management, training resources, and support. By working together in a single platform, comprehensive business insights provide actionable data that help owners and managers make informed decisions to increase profitability and performance. Axalta Nimbus is easy to use with an intuitive user interface for increased efficiency and customizable capabilities based on business need.

"Axalta Nimbus enables our customers to do business smarter," said Troy Weaver, President of Global Refinish at Axalta. "This industry-leading technology was designed based on the end-to-end process of how our customers work and reaffirms our commitment to not only be a leading coatings manufacturer but also a business partner dedicated to helping our customers improve productivity and profitability through technology and innovation. We are very proud of Axalta Nimbus and look forward to the impact it has in the market."

Axalta Nimbus is the one and only system needed to access Axalta Nimbus Color, Catalog, Stock, Store, Insights, Academy, and Support. Axalta Nimbus Color leverages proprietary algorithms to find, sort, and return accurate color formulas and powers the Axalta Iru fully automated, digital color management process. Managers can review real-time consumption data and inventory management with Axalta Nimbus Stock and replenish inventory directly through Axalta Nimbus Store. Axalta Nimbus Insights help refinish customers improve business performance using customizable dashboards and key performance indicators to drive informed business decisions.
