Management Commentary

"The third quarter of 2025 was underscored by progress toward the launch of our new Al Concierge product and steady revenue as we continue to advance our investment in Al," said Jeremy Krol, Interim CEO of Phunware. "Earlier this year we announced our new Al

Concierge product feature and Guest Services Agent product with features to help hoteliers unlock additional revenue by utilizing AI in their hospitality applications. AI Concierge functionalities will serve as a human-like interface in our mobile apps for customers to enhance customer engagement with users, providing customers with innovative opportunities to further monetize their products and services with users. We are running an AI Concierge pilot testing program with an existing customer in their mobile application and are delighted by the initial positive response. We look forward to measuring its impact on user engagement and customer insights."

"Looking ahead, we are highly focused on adding more Al-related features and functionalities within our current product offerings and are working with other customers to launch pilot testing programs for our Al Concierge. Our team is continuing internal development and testing of our Guest Services Agent to provide information and book reservations at restaurants located on customer properties. Expanding business and sales initiatives, including new sales consultants, are ramping momentum in our existing products and building interest in our upcoming Al features and functionalities. To support our strategy, we continue to have ample liquidity to invest in our product development and sales initiatives, as well as the deployment of capital for organic and inorganic growth," concluded Krol.

Note about Non-GAAP Financial Measures

A non-GAAP financial measure is a numerical measure of a company's performance, financial position, or cash flows that either excludes or includes amounts that are not normally excluded or included in the most directly comparable measure calculated and presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, or GAAP. Non-GAAP measures are not in accordance with, nor are they a substitute for, GAAP measures. Other companies may use different non-GAAP measures and presentation of results.

In addition to financial results presented in accordance with GAAP, this press release presents adjusted EBITDA, which is a non-GAAP measure. Adjusted EBITDA is determined by taking net loss and adding interest expense (income), income tax expense, depreciation, and further adjusted for non-cash impairment, valuation adjustments and stock-based compensation expense. The company believes that this non-GAAP measure, viewed in addition to and not in lieu of net loss, provides additional information to investors by providing a more focused measure of operating results. This metric is an integral part of the Company's internal reporting to evaluate its operations and the performance of senior management. A reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA to net loss, the most comparable GAAP measure, is available in the accompanying financial tables below. The non-GAAP measure presented herein may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies.
