Hercules Participates in $150 Million Syndicate Financing by Providing $17.5 Million in Debt and $500,000 Equity Capital to The Generations Network, Inc.

PALO ALTO, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--

Hercules Technology Growth Capital, Inc. (NASDAQ: HTGC), the premier specialty finance company providing venture debt and equity to venture capital and private equity backed technology and life science companies at all stages of development, today announced that it provided a combination of $17.5 million in debt financing and $500,000 of equity capital as part of a larger leveraged recapitalization on December 5, 2007, to The Generations Network, Inc. - an online network of family history Web sites.

The buyout of The Generations Network was led by Spectrum Equity Investors, a top-tier private equity firm.

"Financing The Generations Network represents another deal in Hercules' growing franchise of middle market lending for the late-stage group," said Kevin Grossman, managing director at Hercules. "The company owns three of the top four genealogy Web sites in the U.S. in terms of traffic. This fact, along with the company's strong recent growth trends and expanding international footprint, prompted Hercules to select The Generations Network as a financing candidate."

The Generations Network operates eight ancestry Web sites, including www.ancestry.com and the family social networking site, www.myfamily.com.

"The Generations Network has established a leading position in the genealogy Web site market, providing people with the content, community and technology to empower them to find the individuals most important to them," said Tim Sullivan, president and chief executive officer of The Generations Network, Inc. "We will use the debt and equity capital from this transaction to support the next phase of the company's growth."
