About NightFood Holdings

NightFood is tackling a big consumer problem. Well over 70% of adults under 18-54 snack between dinner and bed. The most popular choices are cookies, chips, ice cream, and candy*. It is understood that these popular nighttime snack choices are not only unhealthy, but contain ingredients that can be disruptive to sleep quality. NightFood has set out to offer consumers better nighttime snack options, launching a line of products that satisfy nighttime cravings in a better, more sleep-friendly way.
