

June 13, 2014

Jerry Wascom Expected to be Appointed President of ExxonMobil Refining & Supply Company

IRVING, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- The board of directors of Exxon Mobil Corporation (NYSE:XOM) is expected to appoint D.G. (Jerry) Wascom president of ExxonMobil Refining & Supply Company and elect him a vice president of the corporation, effective Aug. 1, 2014.

Wascom, 58, is currently director of refining for North America, ExxonMobil Refining & Supply Company.

Wascom began his career in 1979 as a refining engineer at Baton Rouge refinery in Louisiana for Exxon Company USA. He progressed through various engineering and supervisory positions at Exxon Company USA's headquarters in Houston and later as technical manager and process manager at Baytown refinery in Texas. In 1996, he became senior environmental and safety advisor and later corporate planning consultant at Exxon Corporation in Dallas. Following an assignment in Singapore as refinery executive for the far east, he became Beaumont refinery manager in 2000.

In 2004, Wascom became global logistics and optimization manager, Supply & Transportation, ExxonMobil Refining & Supply Company. After serving as vice president of Industrial and Wholesale for ExxonMobil Fuels Marketing Company in 2005, Wascom moved to Tokyo and was appointed president of ExxonMobil companies in Japan and refining director for the Asia Pacific region the following year.

He was appointed director of refining for the Americas in 2009.

Wascom was born in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and has a bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering from Louisiana State University.

About ExxonMobil

ExxonMobil, the largest publicly traded international oil and gas company, uses technology and innovation to help meet the world's growing energy needs. ExxonMobil holds an industry-leading inventory of resources, is the largest refiner and marketer of petroleum products, and its chemical company is one of the largest in the world. Follow ExxonMobil on Twitter at www.twitter.com/exxonmobil.

ExxonMobil
Media Relations, 972-444-1107

Source: Exxon Mobil Corporation