Equifax to Launch $850 Million Commercial Paper Program

ATLANTA, May 22 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Equifax Inc. (NYSE: EFX) today announced that it will launch a new commercial paper program with a capacity of up to $850 million. The commercial paper program is expected to be used initially to refinance approximately $400 million in outstanding borrowings under Equifax's senior unsecured revolving credit agreement among Equifax, Equifax PLC, SunTrust Bank as administrative agent and various lenders with a capacity of up to $850 million. The credit agreement will then be used primarily to support the commercial paper program. The balance of the commercial paper program, if any, will be used for other general corporate purposes.

According to Lee Adrean, Equifax's Corporate Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, "Through launching this initiative, Equifax has broadened its sources of funding while increasing our flexibility to raise short-term capital at competitive market rates."

Equifax has commissioned Banc of America Securities LLC and SunTrust Capital Markets Inc. to act as dealers on the program. JPMorgan Chase Bank NA will act as issuing and paying agent under the program. This program will provide Equifax with added financial flexibility to meet its ongoing corporate funding needs.

The program is rated A-2 by Standard & Poor's and P-2 by Moody's Investors Service. Equifax's long-term debt is rated BBB+ by Standard & Poor's and Baa1 by Moody's.

The securities to be offered by Equifax in any commercial paper program will not be registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and may not be offered or sold in the United States absent registration or an applicable exemption from registration requirements. This press release shall not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy Equifax's notes under its commercial paper program.
