Sidus Space and Reflex Aerospace Sign Letter of Intent at Space Tech Expo Europe to Advance Dual-Use Satellite Development Across U.S. and European Markets

Partnership highlights commitment to expanding satellite services and strengthening transatlantic space infrastructure solutions.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. & BERLIN--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Sidus Space (NASDAQ: SIDU), (the "Company" or "Sidus"), an innovative space mission enabler, today announced a strategic partnership with Reflex Aerospace, a cutting-edge European satellite manufacturing startup. This partnership combines Sidus' expertise in satellite manufacturing and mission operations with Reflex Aerospace's rapid, custom satellite design capabilities. Together, the companies aim to deliver flexible, cost-effective, and high-performance solutions to meet diverse customer needs while strengthening their presence in global markets.

"Finalizing this partnership at Space Tech Expo Europe underscores the importance of collaboration in advancing global space innovation," said Carol Craig, Founder and CEO of Sidus Space. "By combining Sidus' space heritage and mission expertise with Reflex Aerospace's agile satellite manufacturing, we can leverage each other's strengths to deliver tailored solutions worldwide, with both companies contributing to satellite production."

"This partnership represents a significant step forward in our mission to accelerate innovation in space," said Walter Ballheimer, CEO of Reflex Aerospace. "By combining our satellite manufacturing capabilities with Sidus Space's advanced space technologies, we can offer unprecedented value to our customers while strengthening the transatlantic space technology corridor."

The collaboration is expected to commence in 2025, with both companies contributing to the production of integrated satellite platforms designed to meet the needs of a growing global customer base.
