Shutterfly, Inc. stockholders to receive $51.00 per share in cash in a transaction with an enterprise value of $2.7 billion

Apollo Funds separately enter into a definitive agreement with Snapfish

NEW YORK, June 10, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Funds managed by affiliates of Apollo Global Management, LLC (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, "Apollo") (NYSE: APO), a leading global alternative investment manager, today announced that they have entered into a definitive agreement to acquire all of the outstanding shares of Shutterfly, Inc. (NASDAQ: SFLY) ("Shutterfly" or the "Company"), a leading retailer and manufacturing platform dedicated to helping capture, preserve, and share life's important moments, for $51.00 per share in cash, or enterprise value of approximately $2.7 billion.

The $51.00 per share cash consideration represents a premium of 31% when compared to Shutterfly's unaffected closing stock price of $38.91 on April 23, 2019, the last trading day before a media report was published speculating that Apollo Funds were considering a bid for the Company. The Shutterfly Board of Directors unanimously approved the agreement with the Apollo Funds and recommends that Shutterfly stockholders vote in favor of the transaction.

"We are extremely excited for our funds to acquire Shutterfly," said David Sambur, Senior Partner at Apollo. "At a time when billions of photos are taken every day, Shutterfly has led the charge as a pioneer of personalized photo products and school photography, helping consumers capture, preserve and share life's most important moments. We look forward to working with Shutterfly's talented employees and supporting further investments in technology to drive the continued growth and success of the business."

Shutterfly Transaction Details

The Shutterfly transaction is expected to close by early fourth quarter 2019. The transaction is subject to customary closing conditions, including approval by Shutterfly shareholders and receipt of approval under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976. The Shutterfly transaction is not conditioned on the closing of the Apollo Funds' transaction with Snapfish.

Upon completion of the Shutterfly transaction, Shutterfly will become a privately held company, and its shares will no longer be listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market.

Snapfish Transaction

Simultaneously, Apollo announced that the Apollo Funds entered into a definitive agreement to combine Snapfish, LLC (“Snapfish”), an internet-based retailer of photography products, with Shutterfly. Upon the closing of the Snapfish transaction, the Snapfish owners will become significant minority owners in the combined Shutterfly and Snapfish business.

The Snapfish transaction is subject to specified closing conditions, including the completion of the Apollo Funds’ acquisition of Shutterfly and receipt of approval under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976. The Snapfish transaction is expected to close simultaneously with the Shutterfly acquisition.

Neil Cohen, Chairman of Snapfish and CEO of District Photo, Inc., commented, “We look forward to working with the Apollo Funds. The Apollo Funds bring substantial financial resources as we continue to invest in innovation, as well as valuable strategic perspectives to drive growth over the coming years. We are committed to supporting the company and continuing our relationship as a fulfillment partner.”

“We are thrilled to partner with two pioneers of the photo personalization industry in these innovative transactions,” said David Sambur, Senior Partner at Apollo. “We are confident that this transaction will create an opportunity for innovation and continued growth in the photo and personalized photo products industry. We are excited to work with Neil and the Snapfish team in this transaction, and to benefit from their market expertise after three generations in the photo product business. We believe that both companies will be better positioned to operate in a competitive marketplace through their enhanced ability to invest in product innovation to deliver the best consumer experience.”
