Second Sight Medical Products, Inc. Announces Shareholder Approval for Proposed Merger with Nano Precision Medical, Inc. and other Results of 2022 Annual Meeting

Second Sight to change its name to Vivani Medical, Inc.

LOS ANGELES--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Second Sight Medical Products, Inc. (NASDAQ: EYES) (the “Company” or “Second Sight”), a leading developer of implantable visual prosthetics that are intended to create an artificial form of useful vision for blind individuals, today announced results of its annual meeting held on July 27, 2022, where the quorum was present. The formal results of the vote are included in a Current Report on Form 8-K filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

At the annual meeting, the shareholders voted on seven proposals: (1) approving the merger agreement with Nano Precision Medical, Inc. (“NPM”) and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, the issuance of new shares, and change of control resulting from the merger, (2) approving a reverse stock split in a range, as determined by the Company’s Board of Directors, of 1:2 to 1:10, (3) changing the Company’s name to Vivani Medical, Inc., (4) electing six members of the Board of Directors, (5) approving the 2022 Omnibus Plan, (6) ratifying the appointment of BPM, LLP as Second Sight’s independent registered public accounting firm for 2022, (7) considering and voting upon an adjournment of the Second Sight annual meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of the foregoing proposals. The Board of Directors of the Company unanimously approved each of the Proposals and recommended that the shareholders approve each of the Proposals up for vote at the meeting. The results are:

Proposal 1: the shareholders approved the Merger Agreement and thereby approved the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, the issuance of the merger shares, and the change of control resulting from the merger, as follows:

Scott Dunbar, acting Chief Executive Officer stated, “These are exciting times for Second Sight as we welcome the Nano Precision Medical team. For those who don’t know, Nano Precision Medical, Inc. is a biopharmaceutical business which develops miniaturized subdermal implants utilizing its proprietary NanoPortal™ technology to enable long-term, near constant-rate delivery of a broad range of medicines to treat chronic diseases. These new drug implants are designed to address medication non-adherence, a major contributor to poor clinical outcomes in patients. NPM is planning to initiate a First-In-Human study with its lead asset, NPM-119, an exenatide implant for the long-term treatment of patients with Type II diabetes by the end of this year.”

“For Second Sight, our early feasibility trial of Orion continues, now in its fourth year. While a few participants discontinued the study due to medical reasons unrelated to Orion, we are seeing encouraging results in the remaining study subjects. When we complete the merger, which we anticipate will be in the latter part of August or as soon as practicable thereafter, we look forward to working with the new leadership team and remain committed to identifying and executing strategies to bring the Orion opportunity to the many potential patients who could benefit from this innovative technology,” concluded Mr. Dunbar.
