

October 8, 2020

Swire Blue Ocean is becoming Cadeler!

Earlier today, Swire Pacific Offshore announced its intention to list Swire Blue Ocean on the Oslo Stock Exchange. In connection with the listing, Swire Blue Ocean will undergo a full rebranding, and future operations will be executed under a new name: Cadeler.

We are taking on a new identity, but our experience serving the offshore wind market remains. Cadeler will continue to serve the needs of the offshore wind market and intends to focus on sustainable growth, providing the supplier services critically needed by the offshore wind industry to achieve increased targets for green development.

For more detailed information about the exciting future of Cadeler, please read our full press release.