AUSTIN, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Volcon, Inc. (NASDAQ: VLCN) (the "Company," "Volcon" or "Empery Digital") has closed its previously announced private placement with gross proceeds over $500,000,000 (the "Private Placement") and has now launched its bitcoin treasury strategy with a plan to allocate more than 95% of the gross proceeds from the Private Placement to the acquisition of BTC.

The Private Placement included participation by prominent crypto venture capital firms and blockchain infrastructure providers including FalconX, Pantera, Borderless and Relayer Capital with strong participation from leading traditional financial investors as well as meaningful participation from the management team and board of directors.

The Company intends to build a trusted global bitcoin treasury strategy offering opportunities for investors to invest in the Company through additional listings on multiple trading markets. In the coming weeks, Volcon intends to change its name to Empery Digital, Inc. and change its ticker to EMPD. The Volcon Power Sports business intends to adopt the name Empery Mobility.

To successfully execute this bitcoin treasury strategy, the Company has entered into a Strategic Digital Assets Services Agreement with Gemini, a crypto platform founded in 2014 by Cameron and Tyler Winklevoss.

With Gemini’s secure infrastructure enabling Empery Digital’s long-term strategy, we are building a strategy designed for resilience, transparency, and global investor confidence in the digital asset future,” said Rohan Chauhan, Director of Strategy at Gemini.
